2. We have not yet proceeded sufficiently far to make any further recommendations to the council in connection with payments but we trust to be able to do so at an early date.
3. We beg to call your attention to one special case. The west part of lot 66, block 23, is owned by Mr. D. E. Campbell and leased to Messrs. Terry & Jamieson and Dr. Verrinder. These lessees have put in claims aggregating $11,551. Their leases expire on the 31st December, 1911, and, owing to the nature of the building they will have to move at once upon the expropriation taking place. They will not be able to make any make-shift to occupy the present building after the time that eight feet is taken off it, as their present quarters are already too small.
We understand that it is not the intention of the engineer to do any work in connection with this particular block until the first day of June, 1911, therefore a delay of seven months in the actual doing of the work, would save a claim of $11,000.

PORTUGUESE REPUBLIC.

Number of Powers Resume Negotiations With Government.

Lisbon, Nov. 12.—Diplomatic representatives of the United States, Germany, Russia, Sweden and Norway yesterday notified the foreign office that they were authorized to resume negotiations with the Portuguese government on current affairs.

This action, following the notification by the British, French, Spanish and Italian governments on Thursday, is regarded as effectual recognition of the Republic.

There was a large torchlight procession on Thursday night. The paraders passed before the legations of the countries which have resumed negotiations.

CAMPAIGN IN OLD COUNTRY

PREPARING FOR GENERAL ELECTIONS

Unionist Party Will Fight on the Home Rule
Issue

London, Nov. 12.—An early election being assured, the question now agitating the country is whether it will take place in December or January. Hon. A. Asquith, the prime minister, who must decide the question, has kept his own counsel. He left town last evening, and not even the members of the cabinet knew his destination until the newspapers announced his arrival at Sandringham, where King George is in residence.

The object of the visit is to acquaint His Majesty with the failure of the constitutional conference and to advise him of the course the government intends to pursue.

It is believed the cabinet has decided not to carry on any further work in parliament without such guarantees as would insure success to the government's policy. Ordinarily, the resolution on the veto power of the House of Lords, which passed the House of Commons at the last session, would be discussed in the upper chamber and the government would await rejection before taking action. The refusal of the constitutional conference to accept the government's compromise, however, makes discussion of the veto resolution useless in the view of radicals. The opinion prevails that the government either must resign or advise the dissolution of parliament.

It is significant that the trend of feeling in Liberal circles distinctly favors an immediate election, and it is generally considered that this would be a wise course for the Liberals to take, as they would stand an excellent chance of securing an increased majority. Attacks of the Socialists and others have lost much force since January, while the improvement in trade has helped to popularize the free trade party.

On the other hand the Conservatives are suffering from lack of cohesion, and an influential section of the party is openly hostile to Mr. Balfour's leadership, his policy being not aggressive enough for them.

The campaign practically opened last night with speeches in all parts of the country. Organizations of all kinds are getting on their war paint. Not the least of these are the Suffragists whose cry will be "Down with the veto and the prime minister."

The Unionists will fight their campaign on the Home Rule issue. This is indicated by the newspapers, one of which devotes practically the whole of its issue to the return of John Redmond, using such headlines as "The Dictator with Dollars," "American Gold," "Another newspaper advises candidates to rub into their constituents that 'Redmond with $200,000 is about to reappear in this country for the work of tearing down the British government with American money.'"

CHINESE PAY POLL TAX.

(Special to the Times.)

Montreal, Nov. 12.—According to the official returns, sixty Chinese have paid the government tax collector at Montreal $500 each as poll tax, or a total sum of $30,000, since the close of the fiscal year on March 3rd last. This number is on the lines of the local average for several years past.

DESPONDENT MAN COMMITTS SUICIDE

Member of Expedition Which Searched Arctic for Greely
Ends His Life

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Penniless and alone in the world, John Linquist, a member of the expedition that searched the Arctic regions for Explorer Greely, committed suicide early today in a cheap hotel.

In an old and worn out suit case in his room Deputy Coroner William Borthwick found discharges from the army and navy, and letters and credentials which told of a life of daring and hardship.

The discharge from the navy asserted that Linquist had been a seaman on the United States revenue cutter Bear. He had been a member of the expedition to Point Barrow, Alaska, and had aided in the rescue of the whalers caught in the ice. His discharge from the United States army told of bravery in the battle with the Apaches at Little Dry Creek, New Mexico. There were letters and credentials which related experiences as a member of the Greely relief expedition and bravery in battles with the Indians on the plains.

MISSIONARIES SEEK SAFETY IN FLIGHT

Chinese Rioters Destroy Presbyterian Church, College and Hospital

(Times Leased Wire.)

Hongkong, Nov. 12.—Belated advice from Leimchow, province of Kwang Su, report that Chinese rioters have burned and demolished a number of American buildings. Missionaries are reported to have fled in boats to Canton. Three battalions have left Canton for Kwang Su to quell the disturbance. The rioters are reported to be hastening toward Tsai Yuen Po to attack the missionaries there.

Among the buildings reported burned at Leimchow are the American Presbyterian church, college and hospital. The missionaries there are: Dr. Macle, Dr. Ross, Mrs. Ross, Mr. Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and Miss Eida Peterson.

Missionaries Safe.

Hongkong, Nov. 12.—(Later.)—All American and other foreign missionaries at Leimchow are reported to have escaped safely to Canton after the mission houses had been destroyed by a mob. Chinese troops are on the way to quell the rioters who have pillaged and burned the missionary property. The cause of the riots is attributed to action by the authorities in ordering that all houses be numbered. The natives believed that this involved a scheme to tax them and blamed the missionaries.

COUNT TOLSTOI HAS DISAPPEARED

FAMILY ORGANIZES SEARCHING PARTY

Wife of Russian Writer Reported to Have Twice Attempted Suicide

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, Nov. 12.—The family of Count Leo Tolstoy, distraught at the disappearance of the famous Russian writer, to-day organized a searching party. Several individual attempts were made to find Tolstoy, but according to a Moscow dispatch, these have been futile.

Tolstoy left home declaring that he intended spending the remainder of his life in solitary retirement. A dispatch to Reuters agency asserts that the Countess Tolstoy twice attempted to commit suicide through grief over her husband's previous disappearance on October 10.

Before he disappeared Tolstoy left a letter to his wife telling of his intention to become a recluse. "I cannot longer continue to live a life surrounded by luxury," he wrote, "and, like many other old men, I am going to retire from the world. I contemplate a life of solitude and ask that you do not seek my place of sojourn or come to it if it is discovered. I beg forgiveness for any grief I may cause you."

Many believe that the mind of the aged novelist is unbalanced. Tolstoy for a long time has been racked with illness. For more than a year he has remained at his home 16 miles from St. Petersburg, refusing to see any but a few callers. A great deal of that time, he has been confined to his bed by illness.

ARRESTS IN ALASKA

Three Men Accused of Conspiring to Defraud U. S.
Government

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—Under $2,500 bail each, Harry White, C. A. McKenzie and Charles H. Doughton are enjoying their liberty to-day, until they are brought to trial under indictments charging them with coal land frauds.

The men were arrested by federal officers yesterday. White, McKenzie and Doughton are charged with conspiring to defraud the government by organizing companies to take over Alaska coal claims illegally filed upon by the claimants.

IMMIGRATION.

Four Months of Fiscal Year Show Increase of 63,000 Over Same Period Last Year.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—Immigration during the first four months of the fiscal year totalled 155,549, an increase of 65,300 over corresponding period last year.

Immigration from the United States totalled 54,694 and via ocean ports 100,855. The gain in European immigration was 107 per cent.

TROOPS ARE NOW IN CONTROL

PRINCIPAL CITIES IN MEXICO QUIET

Mexican Consul in Texas is Investigating the Lynching
Which Caused Riots

(Times Leased Wire.)

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 12.—Although it is feared that anti-American rioting may break out in the state of Jalisco and particularly in Guadalajara, where the feeling against Americans is very bitter, the conditions, otherwise throughout Mexico are reported normal to-day. Dispatches received here to-day from Mexico city, Monterrey and other principal cities in the Republic say that quiet has been restored, and that the soldiers and rurales, who still patrol the streets, have little to do. No arrests have been made within the past twenty-four hours, it is reported, and it is believed by the authorities that outside of the state of Jalisco there is little fear of other outbreaks. As a precaution, however, against demonstrations to-morrow, all fights throughout the Republic have been prohibited.

Rioting at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, where the American consulate was attacked and partially wrecked, has been stopped and to-day the little town across the border from Eagle Pass is reported quiet. Troops, both federal and rurales, are stationed near the town and can be rushed in to guard American property if it is deemed necessary. A guard has been placed about the partially wrecked consulate.

The Mexican consul at Eagle Pass to-day began an investigation of the lynching of Antonio Rodriguez at Rock Springs, whose death was the immediate cause of the demonstrations at the Mexican capital.

Governor Campbell has arranged to give ample protection to the consul while the investigation is under way. In the meantime the state authorities are investigating the matter on their own account and will report the facts at the earliest possible moment to the state department at Washington.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

(Special to the Times.)

Selkirk, Man., Nov. 12.—Donald Sayer, charged with having caused the death of Rachel Sinclair, was committed for trial after a preliminary investigation before the magistrate here to-day. He was released on bail of $500.

FIRE IN UNIVERSITY.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 12.—Fire started at 9:30 a. m. to-day in the mechanics and arts building of the University of Nebraska. The firemen worked desperately to prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings of the institution. After a hard fight they succeeded in saving the adjoining buildings and a part of the mechanics and arts building. The total damage was $50,000, without insurance.

MAY HAVE TO FACE CHARGE OF MURDER

Wife of Millionaire Held Pending Outcome of Her Husband's Illness

(Times Leased Wire.)

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 12.—In a jail cell hung with damask tapestry, Mrs. Laura Schenk, fashionably gowned, sits on an embroidered couch, awaiting word from the Wheeling hospital that shall tell her whether she will face a charge of murder. Her husband, John O. Schenk, millionaire packer, whom she is accused of having poisoned, is reported to-day to be dying.

It is intimated by Prosecutor Handlan that a physician and a society man will be involved in the trial of the woman as the result of an alleged plot to kill her husband. Chemists examining medicines and lithia water in which Mrs. Schenk is alleged to have given mixed poison, said to-day that only persons skilled in handling drugs could have so graduated the doses as to avoid suspicion for so long. From this it is believed that an effort will be made to prove a physician tutored Mrs. Schenk in the methods, it is alleged she used in attempting the death of her husband.

Twelve years ago Schenk redeemed the woman from poverty and married her. Mrs. Schenk refuses to discuss the case and spends her hours in the cell playing solitaire.

C. P. R. ORDERS NEW ADELAIDE

PLANS THREE BOATS TO MAINLAND DAILY

Four Ferry Liners in Service
Next Year—Adelaide Now
on Way Here

(Times Leased Wire.)

Four magnificent C.P.R. steamships, representing the latest world in construction and equipment for the B. C. coast service, will be in operation by the end of next year between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle, giving a service of three sailings a day to and from Vancouver for at least six days of each week.

This service, which will surpass anything of its kind in the world, is assured by the official confirmation of an article published in the Times shortly after the visit of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy to this city, to the effect that the C. P. R. would duplicate the splendid new steamship Princess Adelaide now on her way to this port.

On his return from a visit to Vancouver and Seattle yesterday afternoon Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B. C. coast steamship service, announced that an order for another Princess Adelaide had been placed and that the new vessel would be completed early next year.

"With the 'steamships' Princess Charlotte, Princess Victoria and the Princess Adelaide, which is now in the Pacific on her way here, the company will be able to give a service of three boats a day from Victoria to Vancouver and vice versa," said Capt. Troup to a Times representative. "The Princess Adelaide will be placed on the night run to Vancouver and her sister ship will maintain a night run from the mainland to this port. That will mean three steamships leaving each terminal of the ferry service daily at approximately 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 11:30 p. m. The addition of the two 'Adelades' to our coastwise service means further that, in case of emergency, we will have two steamships admirably adapted to any service between here and Skagway and representing the acme of comfort and convenience."

"The night service from Vancouver will, undoubtedly, provide a want which has been long felt and should have the effect of stimulating traffic." Capt. Troup also announced the date of the Charmer's withdrawal from the night run to Vancouver, which is Sunday next. As already announced, the place of the Charmer will be taken by the Princess Royal until the arrival of the Princess Adelaide about the second week in December.

The Princess Adelaide was reported at Puntas Arenas a few days ago and is now in the Pacific. She is expected to reach Coronel by the 13th or 14th and will make two further calls after leaving the last-named port, Callao and San Francisco. The Adelaide is being brought out by Capt. Lindgren and was especially boarded up for the trip and loaded with extra supplies of coal. On the voyage she is making only five calls and, in consequence of her limited coal space, is coming out under reduced speed.

The New Steamer.

On this page the Times reproduces the first photograph of the new steamship yet published in Canada, which shows her leaving the Clyde on her way to Victoria. The Adelaide is 289.6 feet long, 46 feet in beam and 17 feet deep and, although only built as a 17 knot vessel, developed the remarkable speed of 18.28 knots on her trial. She has 113 staterooms with double lower and single upper berths and her accommodations, while resembling those of the Princess Charlotte, are superior in many respects. In the picture the graceful lines of the new steamship are somewhat marred by the boarding over the observation room, the open forward end of the saloon deck and the open end of the main deck aft, which was necessary to safeguard her interior fittings from possible violence on her long 15,000 mile voyage.

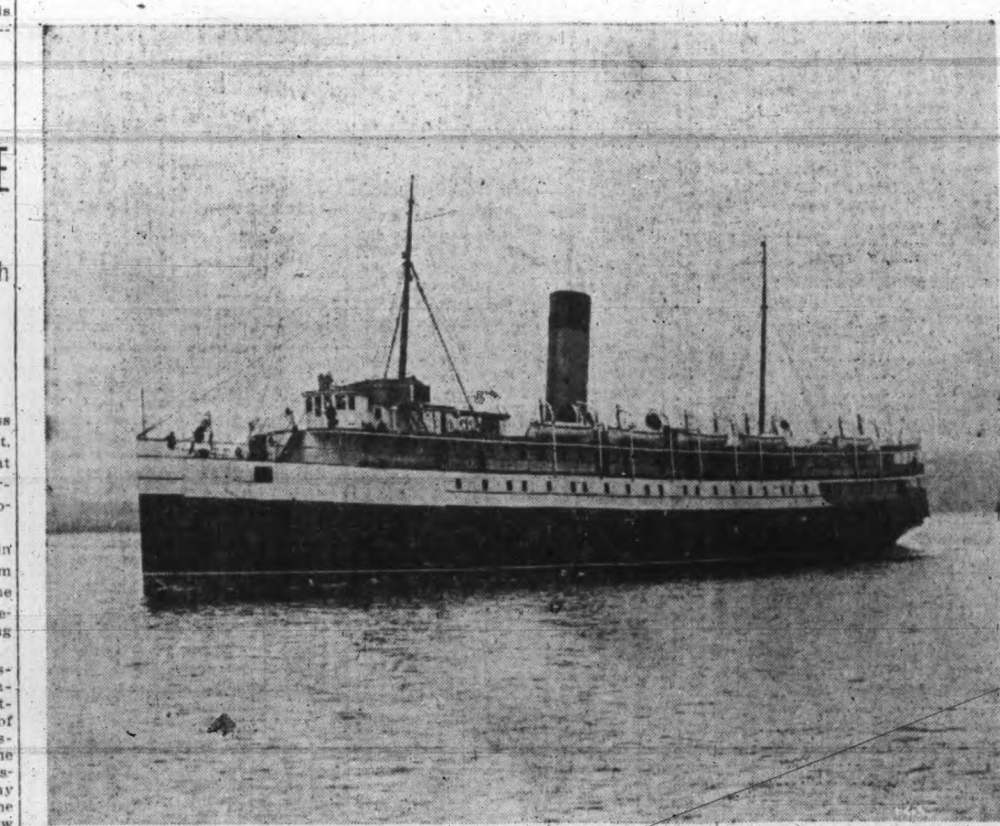

The tentative plans for the Adelaide were prepared at the local offices of the C. P. R. coastwise service and represent the latest features in steamship construction as adapted to the B. C. coast. The typical American pilot house, narrow and well placed navigating bridge, increased deck space and other characteristics of the steamship make her the latest work in coasting vessels for the waters between here and Skagway.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Prohibitionists and Independents May Vote With Democrats, Giving Them Control.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The control of the lower house of the Illinois legislature probably will be with the Democrats, practically complete returns indicate that the Republicans and Democrats are tied with 55 votes each, but 5 Prohibitionists and 1 Independent probably will vote with the Democrats, thus giving them a majority.

C. P. R. STEAMSHIP PRINCESS ADELAIDE

Leaving Glasgow on her way to Victoria to enter service on the night run between here and Vancouver. The Princess Adelaide is expected at Coronel about Monday and will make two more calls, at Callao and San Francisco. She is expected here in the second week in December.

Slippery Pavements Bother the Autoists

A Section of Adelaide Street East of Yonge Was Very Bad This Morning.

This morning's drizzling rain made it almost impossible for any automobile, which wasn't blessed with skidding chains, to navigate. Adelaide street, between Yonge and Toronto streets, was particularly slippery.

One auto, a large, heavy, massive vehicle without chains, took fully ten minutes to get from Yonge to Toronto. The driver would put the machine under full power, only to have it stand still, with the wheels churning around, acting like a boat with the propeller out of the water. No one occupied the back of the car, and the back end would swing around, sometimes describing a complete circle.

Finally, by getting the car under its highest speed, and then suddenly shutting it off and locking the wheel "dead," several times, he managed to get by this bad spot.

This exhibition caused a lot of attention and quite a crowd lined the street.

From the Toronto Star, October 15th.

Adelaide Street is paved with Sheet Asphalt.

PLATFORM OF JOHN A. TURNER

IS STAUNCH ADVOCATE OF MUNICIPAL REFORM

Strongly Opposed to Everything Which Might Savor of an "Open Town" Policy

Investigating a report which has been current for several days to the effect that he was likely to withdraw from the forthcoming mayoralty contest, for which he has announced his candidature, a Times representative called on ex-Ald. John A. Turner this morning and questioned him on the matter.

"Retire? I should say not. I have no notion of it. I am in the fight to stay, and under no circumstances would I give the slightest consideration to a suggestion that I should do otherwise."

"I am not in the habit of making up my mind hastily, and it was only after due deliberation that I agreed to the wishes of many friends, in whose judgment I have every confidence, and consented to offer myself as a candidate at the forthcoming municipal elections."

"I am in the field simply and solely for the reason that I believe I can render the city good service in the capacity of mayor. It may be worth while to mention in this connection that I have all my interests in Victoria; that these interests represent an investment of many thousands of dollars and that therefore anything that concerns the welfare of the city concerns myself to a very considerable extent."

"My belief that I can serve Victoria satisfactorily rests primarily on the judgment of many influential friends who have urged me to become a candidate, and also on my own knowledge of municipal matters, gained after many years service in a public capacity in the city of Nelson and also in Victoria."

"Now I know perfectly well what a number of people who are opposed to my candidature are saying; and I would like to take up that point," continued Mr. Turner. "They charge that I am the nominee of the liquor interests and that if elected I would stand for an 'open town.'"

"In the first place I may mention that perhaps my record as a resident of this province for the past twenty-three years and as a citizen of Victoria for a considerable period, and the fact that I have a family here, ought to refute such false statements. But perhaps I should go into it a little more fully."

"I do not believe there is a man in the city of Victoria to-day who will go further than I, if I am chosen mayor, in the direction of sound reform in all directions. Many excellent citizens are not constantly proclaiming from the housetops their convictions as to the wisdom of restricting the vicious element in the community and better controlling the liquor traffic, and perhaps I am one of those, but it does not follow that this mass of citizens are one whit less sincere in their desire for reform than those who make a business of appealing constantly for support on the ground that they are the only champions of right to be found in the whole city."

"However I wish to emphasize this, I have long felt that no careful student of the trend of public sentiment in western Canada can have failed to observe that the time has arrived when there must be every effort made by public men to respond to that public sentiment by restricting the sale of liquor within the narrowest possible limit. It would be an exhibition of sheer lack of intelligence on my part were I to fail to recognize that the people of Victoria will no longer stand for anything which savors of an 'open town.' As for other evils which menace the community, being a family man myself and having my home here, I think I can be depended upon to frown upon anything which savors of the vicious or immoral."

"Of course I realize perfectly well that it will be argued by those who have decided that they shall oppose my candidature that they do not believe this. Very well, I can only say, in reply to that, that those are my views and trust to my record since I located in this province to bear witness as to whether my word is worthy of acceptance amongst honest men."

"Now that I am at it I should like to say a word about what may be other lines of the forthcoming campaign. There are three matters on which I would touch—the question of the disposition of the Indian reserve that of reform in the manner in which the public works of the city are executed, and the problems which confront the city in a special way as a result of the increased cost of living."

"In regard to the Indian reserve, I assume that it will be available for development purposes some time during the coming year. The city should arrange that a portion of the area be reserved so that Victoria West will be assured of getting the public park for which the district has long stood in need. Then every effort should be made to protect the interests of the city at this time in so far as terminal facilities for rival railway corporations are concerned. It will be recalled in this connection that last year favored the council proceeding to expropriate enough of the land to make a highway from the west end of the bridge leading to the reserve right through to Victoria West. I am still desirous of seeing that roadway constructed."

"Now in regard to improved methods in handling public works, I am sure that many citizens are dissatisfied, and with just cause, at the slipshod policy which has been so conspicuous during the past year. There must be an improvement. It would be my aim and purpose if I were elected mayor to take up at the earliest possible date the problem of how to get better results from the expenditure of the large sums of money which the ratepayers are annually called upon to pay, and for which I do not believe they get full value. If it be the result of incompetency on the part of somebody, then that somebody must be located and told to go. That is all there is about it."

"It is a matter of common knowledge that during recent years there has been a great increase in the cost of the necessities of life all over the world. We feel it here in Victoria to a very appreciable extent. That being so it surely is obvious that the wage scale must be adjusted to meet the new conditions which have arisen, and for that reason I am favorable to revising the rates of remuneration paid the great body of laborers in the service of the corporation to the end that a more equitable arrangement may be arrived at. In my opinion to do so is only fair and right."

RIOTING FOLLOWS STUDENTS' MEETING

American Citizens Threatened by Mexicans—Troops Ready for Emergency

Guadalajara, Mexico, Nov. 11.—Federal troops are patrolling the section of Guadalajara to-day, and every soldier in the military district has been ordered under arms ready for instant duty if the outbreak becomes serious.

The night was marked by disorders and anti-American rioting and although the situation to-day is considerably better, the authorities admit that further outbreaks may occur. Federal cavalry has been ordered out to protect the American consulate.

General Vilasenor, in command of the military district, is in personal charge of the situation.

During the night a mob, led by students, terrorized the American section of the city. Houses were stoned and Americans venturing on the streets were roughly handled. Threats were made against the American consul and a portion of the mob threatened the consulate but was driven away. Most of the Americans remained indoors to-day and their houses are barred.

Many of the rioters last night were boys, but the leaders in the more serious outbreaks are said to have been men and the authorities say that some of them probably are revolutionary leaders.

INDIAN IS SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Is Accused of Murder—Partner Charged With Being an Accessory

New Westminster, Nov. 12.—Two Indians, Enias Mack and Peter Sigh, wanted by the city police in connection with the death of William Bernard, a halfbreed, who disappeared on September 21 last, after a brawl on the Fourth street wharf, and whose body was found floating in the river recently, were arrested by Chief of Police Headshaw at the St. Mungo Cannery, three miles down the river from the city.

police court before Magistrate Edmonds.

The prisoners, who were tried separately, presented a marked contrast in appearance. Enias Mack, charged with murder, stood erect, and listened attentively to the evidence, as interpreted to him by James Wise. The other prisoner, Peter Sigh, charged with being an accessory, stood with folded arms and seemed more interested in the surroundings than in the evidence.

Mack evinced no surprise when the charge was read to him, but when Harry McKay, the Indian, who swears to being an eyewitness of the affray which the Crown contends resulted in the death of Bernard, gave evidence, Mack informed the interpreter that the witness was lying, and wanted to give his side of the story. He was unrepresented by counsel, and on the advice of the court remained silent.

According to McKay a quarrel had arisen between Mack and Bernard, followed by a fight, in which the halfbreed was knocked down, and kicked by the Indian.

Asked if he had anything to say, Enias Mack said he was a fisherman and had come to town because his partner wanted tobacco. In the city they were spoken to by Bernard, McKay and Bernard had an argument over a watch, and then went into a saloon and bought whisky. Mack drank with them, and then lost his senses, remembering nothing further until he found himself in Anderson's camp. Magistrate Edmonds committed the accused for trial at the next court, probably in May.

Mack replied, through the interpreter, that he was satisfied; he had nothing to be afraid of.

Peter Sigh, charged with being an accessory to the murder of William Bernard, was given a hearing following that of Enias Mack.

The evidence was substantially the same as in the case of Mack and the accused was committed for trial.

DEMAGOGUERY IN QUEBEC.

"We owe nothing to England. The only privileges we enjoy were torn from her by force. England did not conquer Canada for love; she did not plant the cross as France did, but established counting-houses to make money." Thus spoke one of the supporters of the Bourassa propaganda during the late election campaign in Drummond and Arthabaska. Conservatives who openly exult over the defeat of the government candidate in effect applaud the remarks of this incendiary. Mr. Borden, the leader of the opposition, has given vent to some degree of exaltation over the result of Mr. Bourassa's appeals to the ignorance, passions and prejudices of French-Canadians, worked up in this instance to a state bordering on frenzy by vivid word-pictures of their fathers, sons and brothers being dragged to their doom at the wheels of the juggernaut of imperialism. But the more sober, responsible and far-seeing of Conservative journals, infinitely to their credit, have refused to follow their leader in his halting commendation of Mr. Bourassa's campaign. They perceive that in that way danger lies to the future of this Dominion, which under the unity of sentiment which has prevailed during the Benoit regime of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is fast attaining the place prepared for her among the great nations of the world. We can all see now that the ghost of "Nationalism" has been raised by an irresponsible demagogue how wisely and with what infinite tact the Prime Minister has directed public opinion in the province of Quebec. Nor is it difficult to imagine how very different the situation might be from the point of view of every loyal Canadian and British subject should men of the type of Bourassa and Monk be adopted as leaders of public opinion in that province. We think the more sober-minded of Conservatives will agree that Mr. Borden by his quasi-endorsement of the Bourassa propaganda has given complete and final proof of his unfitness for the leadership of a federal political party in Canada.

The following able article copied from the Montreal Witness, gives a complete exposition of the situation:

Mr. Bourassa, jubilant with the victory of the anti-naval—la marine de guerre—it sounds worse that way—candidate, and with the cheers of the Laval students ringing in his ears, is reminded of le brave General, one Bourassa, who was once the idol of the more effervescent part of the French populace because of his flowery flow of eloquence and his melodramatic poses. There is nothing either so good or so bad as we expect, is the conclusion of one of the books of life, and one day doesn't make a summer, although many often act as if it did. Still, it would be foolish to minimize the importance of the vote-cast in Drummond and Arthabaska. Mr. Bourassa now proclaims: "You must not think that we have been waging an anti-British campaign; far from it. I tell you, and I tell the people of the provinces where the English predominate, we are just as loyal to the Old Land as they are." Words are cheap, and these words were politic even if they do not convince. If Mr. Bourassa's campaign was initiated largely out of spite to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and without due weight to its ultimate result, it is quite possible to conceive, especially if he believes that he sees victory in view for himself and his followers in this province, that he may see farther than those he leads. If he is not really obsessed with the idea that he can segregate the French-Canadians in this province and their overflow into the province of Ontario, but is using their passions and votes to further a larger ambition of his own, of Dominion-wide scope, then the protestations of loyalty to the Empire and all that can easily be understood at this time. Whether or no, the protestations are puerile. We had almost said contemptible, and insulting, or what concern to Great Britain is a loyalty that is elementary? When a child grows up and sees a parent struggling along to make both ends meet it does not usually boast of the fact that it still consents to live at home, but strictly to the understanding that it does not contribute a silver towards the household expenses. Mr. Bourassa now pretends that the victory for his side was won because the question of a navy or no navy for Canada was not submitted to the people. Leaving aside the fact that the referendum is up to date no part of our political system, and has only been resorted to in case of the question of prohibition. Mr. Bourassa knows very well that his appeal has, for several years past, been to race and religion, to prejudice, and that the election in Drummond and Arthabaska has been won largely by frightening the voters into the belief that the able-bodied among them would be drafted off to fight in the wars of land and sea. In a sense, however, the victory of do good all round. It may bring the Conservative party to a graver sense of its responsibilities. It may, and this is most of all to be desired, teach our Imperialists not to be so shrill, especially those whose imperialism is suspected of being largely sham."

A small flock of house sparrows are said to have recently arrived at Nelson, B. C. Those Britishers again! Moses B. Cotsworth, city auditor for New Westminster, is back on his job, and lively times are expected in the Royal City.

Petrol and Macadam are playing an ever-increasing part in the transportation problems of the world. We want a great deal more of the latter in this country.

It has been suggested that the next Imperial Conference discuss the matter of an Empire flag. The Union Jack seems to be well suited for the purpose. An improvement might be made, however, in the Canadian emblem.

The Charing Cross Bank which failed recently in London was offering its patrons from seven to ten per cent interest. There are always people looking for a get-rich-quick scheme, and who never look behind the rate of interest offered.

Sir London Conservative newspapers seem to favor the new federal policy for Great Britain and Ireland as outlined here by T. P. O'Connor, or with some modifications. These are the Times, Morning Post, Telegraph, Standard, Daily Mail and Observer. Those opposing the scheme are the Daily Graphic and the Spectator. From this it would seem as if parliament would be almost unanimous on the question, but it won't. Lord Hugh Cecil and a number of other Conservatives have already declared themselves against the scheme.

We advise Captain Clive Phillips-Wolley before he returns home from his Eastern tour to make a thorough campaign in Quebec province, including a personal canvass. This might have a good effect on the habitants, and at any rate would brighten up the Captain's knowledge of the French language as spoken in Canada. There would be a little difficulty in mastering the necessary idioms for "knock out blow," "hitting below the belt," "blooding the young hound," and a few of the other of the Captain's "military" phrases, but he would soon get into the swing of it. The habitants are an excitable people and would easily be influenced by the Captain's terrible swipes of oratory. Then there is that small body of English Canadians that voted against the navy policy. It needs to be converted.

GUNNER ALLEN'S CASE.

To the Editor:—I had thought, after sentence of execution was passed upon Gunner Allen, that this unfortunate man would have been permitted to have passed the remainder of his days in this life, if not in peace, at least free from the attacks of the calumniator, but it seems that this is not to be, and I find that, in addition to defending him at his trial, I am compelled, by ordinary human instincts, to watch his steps from the court room to the scaffold in order that the condemned soldier may not have a false charge of cowardice pointed to the public unattacked. The statement which appeared in the Daily Colonist of the 11th instant to the effect that this man is wavering before his doom is utterly without any foundation. The warden of the jail is in ignorance of how this rumor has been spread, as it is quite contrary to the facts. Gunner Allen, under the circumstances, is displaying a degree of fortitude which is worthy of commendation in a man placed in such a position.

Although it may not perhaps be part of my duty to speak where the condemned man is forced to be silent, I assume the duty voluntarily, and wish to inform the public that this unfortunate man is, despite his horrible situation, acting bravely and not as a coward. He has been tried and has been convicted, and surely in his last hours he should be entitled to be free from false reports.

I have no other interest in the matter other than to see this unfortunate man in his terrible position receive fair play.

I would recommend that in future where sidewalks and pavements are to be laid that the grade be clearly established and set out on the plans and profiles accompanying the report."

AUSPICIOUS OPENING OF MUSICAL SEASON

Mme. Lehmann and Talented Quartette Interpret Noted Composer's Work

With four talented singers rendering selections from her own compositions and to her accompaniment, Mme. Lehmann opened the Victoria Musical Society's season very successfully last evening. There was a fairly large audience in attendance at the Victoria theatre and the programme, which consisted mainly of comedy songs of a light and airy character, was hugely enjoyed.

Mme. Lehmann's company consisted of Miss Blanche Tomlin, a youthful soprano possessing a voice of unusual range, fluency and volume, although slightly harsh in its upper notes; Miss Palgrave-Turner, whose voice is a rich and matured contralto, lacking slightly in expression in its lower range; Hubert Einfeld, whose tenor is wonderfully sweet and expressive and inclined to thinness on this same account; and Julien Henry, a most satisfactory baritone and an experienced vocalist who understands his art perfectly.

Mme. Lehmann's repertoire of her own compositions are generally well known as musical fare of a most dainty character. The noted composer selected for last evening's programme two song cycles, "In a Persian Garden," a musical setting of selected Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam from Fitzgerald's translation, and "The Nonsense Songs" from "Alice in Wonderland." In addition to these cycles each of the quartette of vocalists rendered several of the shorter songs in their repertoire.

"In a Persian Garden," perhaps the most noteworthy of Mme. Lehmann's work, was splendidly sung. The quartette parts were remarkable for the union of the voices, unflattering time and an utter lack of even momentary discord. In the solo passages the individuals proved more than equal to the rendition of their allotted parts. With no fault to be found in the quality of the singing or the prettiness of the music it is still a fair criticism of the composer's production to say that the musical setting does not adequately portray the philosophic character of the utterances which Fitzgerald has thought worthy of preservation in his verse. In many places the music does not fit the character of the verse and necessarily fails to impress the "thoughtful soul" who finds in the quatrains of the "glorious infidel" of Persia something more than an Oriental mysticism or resignation; something, in fact, closely approaching universality and making the Rubaiyat as much an Anglo-Saxon text book as it is Persian. In the light of this universality Mme. Lehmann's musical interpretation of the text follows too closely the effect produced upon the ear which first hears the haunting feet of this particularly attractive verse form.

"The Nonsense Songs" proved trivial but very pretty, and very, very amusing. In the songs given by each performer during the second part of the programme the audience had a very fair opportunity of judging the voices of the company, and by repeated applause proved that they were most acceptable.

The evening was a thoroughly enjoyable one but, in view of the fact that Mme. Lehmann had assembled four such excellent vocalists, whose voices found rather limited scope in her own compositions, there was a very natural regret on the part of many attending that some selections of a more serious character and of much greater difficulty were not added to the programme.

MILITARY ENQUIRY AND INQUEST TO-DAY

Formal Investigations Follow Tragedy at Work Point Barracks

A military court of enquiry concerning the death of Corporal John Bowman and Gunner Charles Ratcliffe, No. 5 company, R. C. G. A., is being held to-day at the Work Point barracks.

An inquest is being held by the coroner this afternoon at the city hall, after the close of the military enquiry. There is no fresh evidence other than that gathered by the authorities yesterday.

The civil service examination which was conducted in the council chamber of the city hall, and lasted four days, was concluded last evening. The number of candidates was smaller than usual, which shows that young men are turning their attention to other lines of occupation. There were at the examination only four for preliminary, two for qualifying and one naval cadet. Rev. Dr. Campbell was the examiner.

The joint business and social meeting of the Young Peoples' Bible class of the Metropolitan Methodist church, which was held last evening in the league room for the purpose of considering the re-organization of the class, was largely attended. The newly elected officers are as follows: President, R. W. Riley; vice-president, Miss L. Moore; secretary, Miss B. Willis, and treasurer, Miss E. Bailey. At the conclusion of the business part of the programme a social time was held and the meeting all around was considered a great success, everyone enjoying themselves to the utmost. Rev. A. E. Roberts is the teacher of this class, which meets every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all young people to attend.

It was decided at last evening's meeting of the streets committee of the city council that the city solicitor should write the principals of the Columbia Building Company and seek from them an undertaking in writing that, in the event of them being awarded a contract for paving in Victoria, no royalties whatever shall be charged the city. On receipt of such undertaking the Building Company will be permitted to tender on standard specifications for an asphalt pavement.

COMPANY HAS FAITH IN VICTORIA

It must be gratifying to the shareholders of the British Columbia Permanent Loan Company to know that the business of the company in Victoria is increasing so rapidly that the present offices will soon be too small. In order to provide for future requirements and to give every accommodation to Victoria clients, the directors of the company have bought the corner of Douglas and Johnson streets on which they intend to erect suitable office premises.

Mr. McQuarrie, the local manager, says that the company has secured the right site at the right time and that the action of the board is warranted by the increase in the company's business during the past year.

—In the police court this morning Magistrate Jay gave his decision in the case against Hinkson Siddall and held that possession by the bailiff had been proved and that the arrangement had been entered into between the defendant and the tenant that he was to watch the house and contents from outside. With this established, the magistrate was of opinion that the defendant was entitled to make the charge of $13.50, which he did. The decision was, therefore, in favor of Mr. Siddall.

—In a recent issue the Free Press of London, Ont., prints in a prominent place with a large heading an article eulogizing Vancouver Island apples. Kenya, Victoria, a former resident of this city and a member of the old volunteer fire brigade. The apples, on being weighed were found to have an aggregate weight of four pounds 12 ounces. The apples were grown on the farm of H. E. Cook, Gordon Head, a neighbor of Mr. Kenya." This is another proof of which all parts of Canada are beginning to take note.

—The management of the Aged Woman's Home desire to extend grateful thanks to the many kind friends of the institution who so generously assisted in making their tea and sale of work such a grand success. —The identity of the body found on the Indian reserve Thursday night has been established. It is that of a man named James O'Dell, who was formerly employed by Janes, McDonald and Timothy at Alberni. October 19 O'Dell came to Victoria with Morgan Robinson and W. Thelin and stayed at the Queen's hotel. These men last night acquainted the police with the facts regarding the deceased and to-day identified the body. An inquest will be held.

The seven lads of His Majesty's Canadian Ship Rainbow who joined as recruits just previous to the vessel sailing from England, are being entertained this afternoon. The lads were considered too young to attend the banquet on Thursday night, and they were much disappointed at seeing the men go off to enjoy themselves while they had to remain on the ship. A small grant has been made by the mayor and council for the purpose of giving them a dinner this evening at the Dominion hotel. This afternoon they are attending the Rugby football match by the courtesy of the Victoria Rugby Union, and to-night they will be the guests of the Grand theatre at the first performance. It is probable that before long these lads will be joined by Canadian recruits who will decide to make the ocean of the Empire their life work.

Y. M. I. WON FROM HIGH SCHOOL FIVE

First Basketball Game of Season at Institute Hall Last Night

The basketball season opened last night with the practice game between the High School and Y. M. I. teams, taking place at the Institute hall and resulting in a victory for the Y. M. I. by five points, the final scores being: Y. M. I. 26, against High School, 21.

High School was the first to score. They went away from the start with a jump and had the ball lodged in the basket within a few moments of the blowing of Referee D. Campbell's whistle. The score was made by Williscroft.

The Y. M. I. however, retaliated, and Brown made several tries without result. He was, however, successful eventually and his play appeared to take the High School players by surprise. Betterton scored for the High School, Steele, Wood and Williscroft following with good shots, resulting in scores to the High School.

Brown, however, came through again on more than one occasion, and with a final from a foul he ended the first half with the score in the Y. M. I. favor 15 to 10. It was the five points lead gained in this half that the High School boys could not make up during the second half of the game. The final period was played equally well by both teams, as neither side could get any advantage. McArthur scored for the Y. M. I. and then Steele for the High School. Both these were pretty long shots from the centre. The remaining scores were made alternately by members of the two teams.

The High School in the last five minutes had more shots at the basket than the Y. M. I. boys but could not land sufficient to draw the game out of the fire. The shots were misjudged owing to haste and lack of care. Brown's score of 15 was a fine performance for the Y. M. I. and the High School made a great mistake in the first half in not watching this player more carefully. The attendance at last night's game was about 100.

High School—Forwards, E. Steele, 2; Williscroft, 7; centre, Betterton, 4; guards, Wood, 4; B. Steele, 4. Total, 21.

BIG RUGBY GAME IN SOUTH TO-DAY

California Favorite Over Stanford—Berkeley Men Using Three, Two, Three Pack

(Times Leased Wire.) Berkeley, Cal., Nov. 22.—"It looks like California University is the unanimous prophecy for the 'B' players, who are waiting 20,000 strong for the signal that will plunge the Stanford and California Universities into the twentieth annual struggle this afternoon. The California fifteen is working like a perfectly well-oiled machine. They are playing on their own field; they are heavier than the Cardinal team; they are more experienced and they are using what appears to be a more effective formation—the three two three pack. So confident is Coach Shaffer of the ability of the blue and gold to bring home the championship that he has omitted from his kickoff line-up the veteran inside five-eighths, Elliott.

Elliott was slightly injured in the California-Nevada game last Saturday, and rather than subject the fast back to risk of further misfortune, C. Evans, an unknown quantity, has been put in a ball-carrying position.

Stanford, as well as California, has suffered a loss as a result of her last pre-intercollegiate contest. Gene Vern, who was a tower of strength at right wing three-quarters, came out of last Saturday's fight with the Olympics with a broken leg. In his place Coach Presley has put Harold Thoburn, who will make his first appearance in a varsity game. There are five other new men in the Stanford line-up, Gieseler, Harrigan, Reeves, Olmstead and Partridge, all freshmen.

California will make double use of her superior weight in playing eight men in the pack against Stanford's seven, the Palo Altoans using two three two pack. This should give Berkeley much the better of it in the scrum.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR VICTORIA BALL NINE

The newly-incorporated Victoria Baseball company, which is behind the movement to put a team in the Northwestern league next year, elected officers yesterday afternoon, at a meeting held in the offices of Green and Burdick, Langley street. The officers are: General manager, L. A. Wattelet; president and treasurer, T. McPherson; vice-president, George A. Fraser; secretary, J. A. Smart. Directors, T. McPherson, T. Leeming, R. F. Green, J. A. Smart and George A. Fraser.

FOIL FENCING

The age has passed when it was customary to let light into the mind through a hole in the body. The sword, except as an ornament on state occasions or as a decoration to be worn amongst military and naval men, has little to do with modern warfare, and yet every year sees more adherents to the fascinating pastime of fencing with the foils.

The fencing clubs in England are invariably striving to educate teams and individuals who shall be able to rival their French adversaries, for, up to the present, no British team has ever succeeded in taking first place in international contests, but as each year passes the margin grows less.

There are probably as many women fencers as there are men, and although many of the former never take part in fencing bouts or contests, they continue the lessons for just one reason—figure! There is no other exercise in the whole world that will exercise every muscle and yet prevent unsightly development, and there is no other scientific pastime that requires the use of "head" so much as foil fencing. No matter whether one is engaged in taking a lesson or fencing with a kindred spirit, there is no time to think of anything else but the foils.

Fencing in Eastern Canada is going ahead, and Vancouver has fencing clubs affiliated to the Amateur Fencing Association of Great Britain, of which association His Majesty the King is patron.

For the championship of Canada no less than twenty-one entries were received at Toronto last March, and for the amateur championship of British Columbia there were sixteen entries.

The innumerable combinations of parries, attacks, reposts, times, stop-thrusts, bindings, etc., give to fencing a lasting charm, and many a fencer, although his foils have been hung up for many years, often finds a period come into his life when with renewed

CORRECT ENGLISH FENCING COSTUME.

The above cut, from a photograph of Madame De Smet, a prominent English fencer, represents the correct fencing dress for women. The waist is of white duck, tight-fitting and slightly padded down the right side. It buttons under the left arm down the side seam to the hip, and on top of the shoulder. A belt corset should be worn. The mask, not in the picture, is of course an accessory.

The McLaughlin Buick Car Still Leads

MR. ERNEST G. MAYNARD, 316 Park Boulevard, Victoria, writes the following:

Gentlemen—I have driven my McLaughlin Buick Car continually since May 18th, 1919, covering OVER 15,000 MILES, and during this period my repairs and replacement account has only been $7.50, for one spark plug and one spring. My car is running as well now as when I purchased it. I have travelled over some of the roughest roads on this island, also been over the Summit several times, and still running on the same tires I got with the car. I feel safe in saying it is the BEST CAR ON THE MARKET FOR THE MONEY.

This is only one of the many unsolicited testimonials that have been received. Better come in and let us demonstrate one for you.

vigor he again dons flannels and fencing coat and once again life seems very good to him. All the old enthusiasm revives and old memories are stirred, eyes grow brighter, the step more elastic, as if the fencer hated the period that had elapsed since the last bout had taken place.

Boxing and wrestling are usually soon given up, but a fencer, provided opportunities are at hand, rarely gives up a sport which has become part of one's life, and even in later years when the legs are less inclined to obey the signals from the still alert mind, hand and eye are almost as sure as ever, and an adversary who ventures within the zone rashly, rarely recovers unless it be to announce a hit received.

And there is nothing more fascinating than a bout with the foils between two expert fencers: it is so different to baseball, football and kindred sports. Swordsmanship demands the essence of grace, a quiet dignity, sang-froid, perfect courtesy and the ability of knowing how to do the right thing at the right time.

Physical activity is not of much account without the use of "head." It does not take years to acquire good knowledge; hand is acquired, the legs soon come under control, and so soon as one can make hand, eye and leg obey the brain, much has been done, but apart from all this the chief incentive to a fencer is the pleasure of meeting a new blade, the chance to pit skill against skill and speed against speed. And one may remember that a fencer never grows old, and there's something to recommend fencing, and that can be proved if one is able to visit the British and French fencing clubs. There may be gray hairs, but their is brightness and physical grace and a calm happiness.

The gum of the Mexican chicla tree is valuable as the basis for most chewing gums, for the reason that it is absolutely tasteless and therefore does not affect the flavor of other ingredients mixed with it.

PIANO MANUFACTURERS' GREAT REBUS CONTEST

Profits Amounting to $7,250 to be Given to the Readers of This Paper. An Opportunity Piano Purchasers May Never Have Again

This Great Publicity Contest

Arranged by us and leading Piano Manufacturers by which our customers will benefit, instead of the newspapers, is the result of our Immense Orders for High Grade Pianos for Fall and Holiday delivery.

REMEMBER

If you are awarded a Manufacturers Piano BOND it will be honored by us as just so much cash toward any full scale New Piano in stock, and the amount of the Bond will be deducted from our regular prices. Our stock is large and complete, consisting of the best English, Canadian and American makes.

OUR ARGUMENT—The more Pianos that can be sold in a certain time at no extra expense the less profit we can ask on each single Piano Sold. This is Sound Business Common Sense

"NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS"

Even after our practical experience of over 40 YEARS in Piano Business we are always learning, picking up new ideas to help our Patrons to buy not only a Piano but a good Piano at a GREAT SAVING, and on EASY TERMS. All we ask is, Be Honest with us and we will give you a "SQUARE DEAL."

In the past our Rebus Contests have been so successful in Vancouver that others have tried to imitate our methods, but very crudely.

Recently we have been asked many times to give our Victoria Store Customers the same Chance as we have given to our Customers on the mainland. We like to see Children happy, and there is nothing that will make a Home so Cheerful and lighten the burdens of Father and Mother as good Music in the Home.

In our proposition the wives and children can assist to buy the Piano. Be Careful and watch your Grammar.

To the first Ten who correctly solve the above Rebus we will give a Manufacturers Bond of $100 each. To the next twenty-five, we will give a Bond of $75 each, and to the next fifty we will give a Bond of $50 each, aggregating $7,250.

Study out the Rebus, write the words plainly and mail or bring your answer to our store, 1104 Government Street, Victoria.

The fairness of this offer appeals to the Public at once, from the fact that the MONTELIUS PIANO HOUSE, Ltd., is noted for selling pianos at the uniform or one price plan. All instruments being marked in plain figures, at prices much lower than some other houses ask for inferior grades. Therefore, to all prize winners there is every assurance of a bona fide reduction to the amount of their certificate on any full scale New Piano they may select.

Our credit system is so advantageous, so modern, so consistent and easy that a Good Piano is within the reach of every one even if in moderate circumstances. No Due Bills or Commissions Will Be Allowed.

Be prompt in sending in your answer. It may mean the placing in your home of that beautiful Piano you have wished for so long.

SPORT NOTES

James Hewitt, sporting editor of the Vancouver Province, arrived in town last night. He is here for the Rugby game and figures Vancouver at least ten points to the good.

W. C. Moresby, quoted in an interview in the Vancouver World, says regarding to-day's game: "Unfortunately, the Victoria men are not in the best condition, the state of the weather and the lack of matches having prevented them from arriving at their full efficiency."

There is a Rugby revival at Spokane, where an exhibition match which it is supposed will do the game there much good, is to be played next Sat.

unday between the Argos of Vancouver and the Spokane team.

Abe Attell and Owen Moran both left Philadelphia to-day, Attell going to New Orleans, where he will fight Frank Corley 15 rounds Sunday night, and Moran to San Francisco. Moran is matched to box Bat Nelson in San Francisco November 25.

Princeton is expected to slaughter Yale to-day. On form there is not much to choose between the teams. Yale outweighing Princeton two-eighths of a pound to the man. Both teams are fit but the condition of the Tigers is believed to be better than that of Yale. Princeton is the betting favorite at 3 to 5, some offering as good as 2 to 5. It is estimated that the attendance, judged by the advance sales, will be 30,000.

In spite of his resignation and the prediction to the contrary, Manager

Doolin will be at the head of the Philadelphia National League baseball team next year, according to an announcement made to-day. The news was given out after a conference between Owner Fogel and Doolin. Although it was not mentioned in the announcement, it is believed that the Cincinnati and Philadelphia trade which caused all the trouble, will go through. Charlie Murphy, owner of the Cubs, and representatives of Chas. P. Taft, who is believed by many to be the real owner of the Phillies, are said to have brought their influence to bear to force Fogel to accede.

The South African cricket team has commenced its tour of Australia and defeated South Australia by 258 runs. South Australia, however, now that the Giffen, Hill, Jones and Jarvis contingent are no more in the cricket world, is only the third representative eleven of the Australian states. The South Africans' tour is by this victory, looked on as a success, but the most important matches will be against Victoria and New South Wales, when the touring team will meet the cream of Australian cricket.

Leo and John P. Sweeney and Frank Nason, of the James Bay Rugby team, leave on Monday for Vancouver to take part in the trip of the Argos football team to Nelson and Spokane. The team plays at Nelson on Thursday and at Spokane on Saturday.

FENCING CLUB FOR UNITED SERVICE MEN

A United Service Fencing Club is being formed which will be under the instruction of P. R. West, fencing instructor, of Victoria and Vancouver.

The club membership is comprised of members of the military and naval forces. Major Bennett and Commander Stewart are both taking a keen interest in the class.

Mr. West will within a few days have rooms on Government street where ladies and gentlemen's classes will be commenced. Those wishing to communicate with him can address him at 2547 Government street.

Dr. Harry Dier, who occupied quarters in the Flye Sisters block at the time of the fire, has engaged a suite of rooms in the new Times building, which he will occupy shortly. In the meantime he will carry on his business at Dr. W. F. Fraser's office, Yates street.

The Victoria Hockey Club will hold its first practice of the season to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock, at the Albion Cricket Club ground. The practice was first called for to-day and members are requested to remember the alteration of the date. The first match is that with Vancouver at that city on the 26th inst, when a warm contest is anticipated.

ARION CLUB.

Fine Programme Being Arranged for First Concert.

Tickets for the first of this season's concerts have been forwarded to Arion club subscribers, and as in previous seasons, these have been sent to all the old and associate members. Should any of the members not require the tickets, they are requested to return them immediately to the secretary, P. O. Box 665, who will also be pleased to receive the names of new subscribers.

The programme being arranged is an excellent one, the choruses containing numbers never before sung before a Victoria audience, and of a pleasing variety. The soloists will be Madame Hultfeldt, recently arrived from Norway, soprano, who has lately been singing in California with great success, and Miss E. S. Shrapnell, violin, who is already well known in Victoria musical circles.

Associate members are requested to forward their subscriptions as early as possible. The first concert will be held on Wednesday, November 23.

Hutchison Bros., contractors for the supply of sewerage pumps for the city, wrote the streets committee of the council last evening that the pumps are now to hand. The city engineer was instructed to have the beds for the same made ready at once.

The streets committee of the city council last evening referred to the purchasing agent, engineer and water commissioner tenders for valves for the waterworks department, which had been received as follows: A. Sheret, $6.50 each; E. G. Prior & Co., $6.80; A. B. Fraser & Co., $6.80; B. C. Hardware Co., $8.00.

On Monday evening at First Presbyterian lecture room under the auspices of the Young People's Club, R. S. Day will show his fine collection of illustrations of Westminster Abbey and other noted places and buildings in the Old Land. Mr. Ritchie will throw the pictures on the screen with his best lantern. The lecture is free, and all will be made welcome.

The city engineer informed the streets committee of the city council last evening that the teamsters refused to work on the old wage of $6 per day and would stay out until the increase of $7 per day was granted. It was decided to grant the increase, and later, on motion of Ald. Humber and Fullerton, to advance wages of all unskilled civic laborers receiving $2.75 a day or less twenty-five cents per diem.

In order to improve the system of fire insurance protection at Rags Bay cemetery the city engineer will at once proceed with the work of placing in position some additional planking at an estimated cost of $40. He reported at

FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Former Watchman in Railway Signal Tower Convicted
at Winnipeg

(Special to the Times.)

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Frank Leland, formerly watchman in the signal tower at Woods siding, near the city, on the C. P. R., was convicted of manslaughter in the assizes today. Sentence was deferred until Monday.

Leland was drunk on duty on September 10 when a local train from Winnipeg approached the crossing of the C. P. R. at the siding. He threw the switch as the train approached and a derailment ensued. Fireman Samson Pattison jumped, but was crushed to death under the locomotive. Leland was arrested at once, and the crown had no difficulty in proving that the fatality was due to his negligence. His only excuse was that he was drunk. The evidence went to show that he was not only intoxicated, but was quarrelsome and disobedient.

UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Woman Believed to be Mrs. Crippen
Reported in Alberta.

Alta., Nov. 12.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by the rumor that a woman who arrived Wednesday is Belle Elmore Crippen, for whose death Dr. H. H. Crippen is under sentence to be hanged November 23 in London.

The woman went directly to a livery stable after arriving here and ordered a team hitched to a wagon. The horses were returned by a farmer the next day. A group of men standing near her in the stable were discussing the Crippen case, and one of them remarked:

"I guess they will make Doc Crippen squawk over in London."

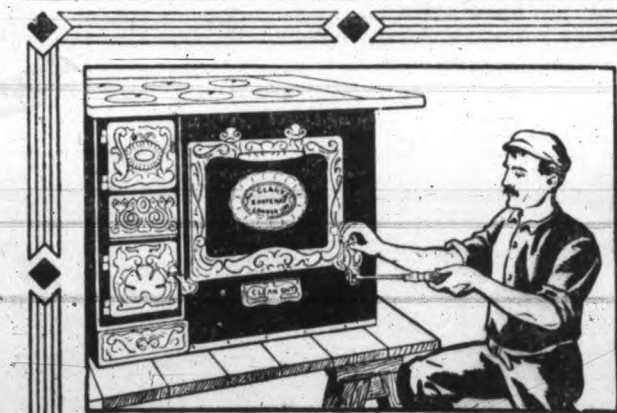

The woman heard the remark and dropped to the floor of the barn in a faint. She was soon revived and left shortly afterward. She eagerly scanned several newspapers in a store and again fainted on reading something concerning Dr. Crippen's sentence.

These occurrences, together with several of a similar nature, led to much speculation and especially when it was noted that her appearance tallied with the description of Belle Elmore.

The police have the woman under surveillance and she may be arrested to-day.

WILL BE MADE CARDINAL.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Archbishop Szepietki, of Lemberg, Galicia, head of the Ruthenian church in Canada, will be made a cardinal, with headquarters at Rome, it was announced yesterday. Bishop Ordolski, present head of the Ruthenian church in the United States, is mentioned as his successor.

COMPENSATION ON FORT STREET

We will be glad to be advised as to whether this one-store could be left to be completed when the tenancies expire.

The following report of the city assessor and city engineer was adopted with the exception of that portion referring to the electric lighting, which was left in the hands of Alderman Mable and M. Hutchison, city electrician, and the tenders for the paving of the street with asphalt will be left to the incoming council.

We, the undersigned, respectfully submit the procedure we would recommend should be taken in carrying out the work of widening Fort street between Douglas and Cook streets, and the building of sidewalks and pavement.

A right of way for an area of eight feet on each side of this street should be procured before the city takes possession for the purpose of building a sidewalk thereon. We will require to have possession of the street in the following order:

Fort street, between Cook and Vancouver, blocks 17 and 20, March 1, 1911.

Fort street, between Quadra and Vancouver, blocks 16 and 21, April 1, 1911.

Fort street, between Quadra and Blanchard, blocks 15 and 22, May 1, 1911.

Fort street, between Douglas and Blanchard, blocks 14 and 23, June 1, 1911.

The present sidewalk is the only existing work on this street that will be affected by the widening. It is proposed to light this street with cluster lights and to place the street railway poles in the sidewalk. These poles should be of steel, similar to the ones on the causeway. Tenders should be called for the paving of this street with asphalt. The Street Railway Company should place their tracks in the centre of the street as widened. The different works should be carried out a block at the time, and only half of the street should be closed to traffic. The entire street should be handed over complete to the city by August 1, 1911.

NEW ADELAIDE

There are large windows in the dining room, which is on the main deck aft, windows instead of the ordinary ports on the outside staterooms of the saloon and the main decks, and increased light and observation advantages in the smoking and observation rooms on the upper deck. The use of only one funnel has also made possible better interior arrangement of lavatories and increased stateroom accommodation.

The Princess Adelaide is equipped with wireless and carries more than adequate safeguards in the way of life belts and lifeboats. She has also patent stockless anchors and the latest type of winches. In every detail of construction and equipment she represents the highest type of B. C. coasting steamship and proved so satisfactory in design and speed upon her completion that the C. P. R., looking to the future increase of traffic between Vancouver Island and the mainland, did not hesitate in ordering her duplicate, as already stated.

ATLANTIC CABLE RATES.

New York, Nov. 12.—Colonel Robert C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, said concerning the reports of negotiations of reducing cable rates that the Western Union for over a year has been making a study in relation to the reduction of cable rates, and has formulated a plan.

"Negotiations for the adoption of these rates," he said, "and a general improvement of the cable service and facilities were commenced last June with the English trans-Atlantic cable companies associated with the Western Union Company and with the English post office authorities. An agreement was substantially reached so far as the English trans-Atlantic cable companies were concerned, but there was some question with the British post office authorities."

In the absence of Rev. J. B. Warricker, pastor of the Baptist church, the service will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and evening by the Rev. A. E. Roberts.

AUTO RACE

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—David Bruce-Brown, in a Benz car, won the Grand Prix automobile cup race at the motor speedway this afternoon in five hours, 33 minutes and six seconds. He made a sensational burst of speed, crossed the finish line second, one minute and 2-1 seconds later.

Nearly a quarter of a million spectators saw the race.

In spite of the close finish and the number of entrants, the race was marred by but few minor accidents.

Haupt led for the first three laps, then hit a tree at Montgomery crossroads and was compelled to withdraw from the race. Haupt's mechanician was taken to the hospital, where it was announced he was seriously injured.

Wagner's car overturned at the skidway road on the twentieth lap and both Wagner and his mechanician were injured. They were rushed to the Savannah hospital in an ambulance.

RACES CONGRESS.

A new kind of an international congress and the world has already seen a great variety of them in recent years will be the first Universal Races Congress, to be held in London next July. The object, officially stated, is "to discuss in the light of modern knowledge and the modern conscience the general relations subsisting between the people of the West and those of the East, between the so-called white and so-called colored races, with a view to encouraging between them a fuller understanding, the most friendly feelings and a heartier co-operation." Fifty different countries have promised their support. There never seems to be any difficulty in getting up an international congress for similar purposes.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Times were better here in Western Canada than they are now and the farmers have not yet put their wheat on the market. VICTORIA IN THROES OF GENUINE BOOM

Great Activity in Building and Many Real Estate Transactions

Real estate builders, architects and contractors report unprecedented activity and Victoria may be said to be in the throes of a genuine boom—not a boom in the sense in which the word is usually used to describe temporary expansion in western communities, but one the result of sound growth and development. Distributed among three of Victoria's contractors there is work on business and residential buildings, either about to be started, in progress or just completed, aggregating well over one hundred thousand dollars, and important real estate transactions are of daily occurrence.

Messrs. Swinerton & Musgrave report the sale to the Melrose Company of a fine business site on Johnson street, a lot 60-120, for the sum of $42,000. The Melrose company will proceed with the erection of a large building rendered necessary to cope with the requirements of their rapidly developing business.

The same firm has negotiated the sale of the property on Yates street next to the Dominion hotel, known as the Bishop's Palace, to a syndicate of Victorians for a figure in the neighborhood of $80,000. Ald. Sargison was the vendor.

H. J. Knott has acquired the southwest corner of Vancouver street, between Fort and Meares, from H. J. Saunders as a site for the erection of a modern apartment house.

Simon Leiser has purchased the Hanna property on Yates street, and will convert the same into an office block.

Many other deals of considerable size are of daily occurrence.

UNIFORM MUSICAL STANDARD COMING

What McGill University is Doing to Hasten This in Canada

C. M. MacFarlane, general secretary of the musical examinations conducted throughout the Dominion by the McGill university, was in the city during the past two days. To a Times representative he explained that his mission was to interest music teachers in taking up these McGill examinations, and in this way hasten the time when Canada would have a uniform musical standard of its own. There was no desire to interfere with other institutions here, he said, but having a branch of McGill university in this city it seemed only right that we should vigorously push our musical examinations also. At the present time McGill university was the only one in the Dominion having its own chair of music, this being occupied by Dr. H. C. Perrin, who visited Victoria last May, when he met a number of the local music teachers. At that time B. J. Bantly was appointed local secretary. This was afterwards confirmed by the university, Principal S. J. Willis continuing to act as local representative.

That the educational authorities are fully alive to the importance of these examinations is shown by the fact that Dr. Alex. Robinson, superintendent of education for the province, authorized the sending out, during the past month, of circulars giving a certain amount of detailed information regarding these musical examinations conducted by McGill university to every school teacher in British Columbia. This will be continued next year. These examinations form a complete chain whereby a student may pass from the most elementary work to the examinations for the diploma of licentiate in music and the degrees of bachelor and doctor of music, granted by McGill university. The examination in theoretical music is held on April 12, and the practical examinations in May and June yearly. In conclusion, Mr. MacFarlane said: "I would like to visit every music teacher in Victoria, to give detailed explanation regarding our examinations, but this is manifestly impossible in the time at my disposal, consequently I must just see one here and there, and trust that my next visit will give me time to become acquainted with all of the music teachers of Victoria."

MOTHERS' UNION.

Dean Doull Speaks on the Sanctity of Home Life.

A largely attended meeting of the Mothers' Union was held Thursday afternoon in Christ Church cathedral. The opening exercises were conducted by Bishop Perrin, after which the Very Rev. Dean Doull gave a most helpful and inspiring address.

Taking as his theme the verse found in 2nd Kings, 4-5: "Is it well with thee, it is well with thy husband, it is well with the child?" the speaker said there were always three factors in home life: The husband, the wife, and the child. The sanctity of the home was of primary importance in religious and national life, and the keeping of the home was intrusted largely to the mother.

Conditions of the day were in many cases not conducive to home life as it was found in former years. Children were dragged up in hotels and flats, and there was no longer a daily gathering of the family as a whole around the family altar.

One of the saddest features of modern life was the drifting of men from church and the performance of their religious duties. Men to-day as a class did not observe the outward forms of religion, and the Bible was crowded out of the lives not only of the fathers but of the mothers. There was not time to read it, yet people could always find time for what they really wanted to do, therefore the inference was obvious, the fathers and mothers of the present day did not want to read the Bible. What then was to become of the children? What was to prevent them growing up a menace to themselves and the community? Religion was not taught in the public schools, and what could be done one hour a week in the Sunday schools? Even the latter were attended by only a small percentage of children.

In a home where only the mother observed the forms of religion, the influence was bad for the children, especially the boys, who were apt to imitate their fathers. The mothers of the day must see to it therefore that it was well with their husbands, otherwise it would not be well with the child. It must also be well with the mother if her influence were to be for good over the immortal souls intrusted to her care. If children saw no difference between the conduct of a mother who went to church and a father who did not go, they would be apt to think it was immaterial whether they went or not.

It was no use for a wife and mother to preach at her husband and children, but she could and should pray for them without ceasing, and always endeavor to show by her own quiet, consistent, conduct that religion was more than a mere name to her.

At the close of the meeting the members of the Mothers' Union were entertained at Bishop's close by Bishop and Mrs. Perrin.

The first public manual training school in the United States was established at Philadelphia in 1855. Now there are such schools in 671 cities of more than 4,000 population.

The prevalence of such climatic conditions does not exactly suggest an indulgence of the universal passion for strawberries and cream, but a gentleman walked into the Times office this morning and offered the chief ingredient required for this seductive dish.

A huge bunch of strawberries which he had just plucked from the vines.

This remarkable exhibit, which constitutes eloquent evidence of the salubrity of the climate in the neighborhood of the Frost King, is now on display at the Times office.

The picture appears herewith. The strawberries were grown by E. H. MacLean in the garden of his residence on Cedar Hill road. A number of Epworth League.—There was a well-attended meeting of the Epworth League last Monday evening, when several items of important business were brought forward. The president, R. Pendray, introduced Geo. Wright as chairman of the Christian Endeavor committee, and Mr. Wright took charge of the meeting. After devotional exercises the changes in the constitution of the Epworth League made by the recent general conference were explained by Rev. A. E. Roberts and the league decided to at once fall in line with these changes. A re-arrangement of the vice-presidents of the different departments was made with the following results: Christian Endeavor department, G. H. Wright; missionary department, Miss Johnson; literary and social department, Miss Okell; citizenship department, G. W. Robinson. The meeting next Monday will be in charge of the literary and social department, and it is hoped that Dr. G. B. Hall will give a lecture on a health topic.

Official Board.—The quarterly official board met for business on Thursday evening when reports were received from the various departments of the church, and other business transacted. The reports were all of a very encouraging nature. Last Sunday was a record day in the Sunday school, when 254 were present, 99 of those being in the primary department.

The lecture is free, and all who wish to enjoy seeing Westminster Abbey and other places in the Mother Land are cordially invited.

Knox.

Young People's Society.—Knox Church Young People's society will hold an Old Victoria evening in the church on Monday next at 8.15 p.m. The programme is an unusual one. There will be on display products of Victoria growing or manufacture, specimens of the artistic skill of Victorians, etc. Vocalists will play songs composed by Victorians. Instrumental selections composed by Victorians will be rendered and a reading from the works of a Victorian will be given. The refreshments served will be made in Victoria and the display generally will prove enlightening—even to Victorians. ANGLICAN.

Salt Spring Island.

New Rector.—Bishop Perrin spent last Sunday on Salt Spring Island, where he instituted Rev. J. S. A. Bastin as rector, in the place of the Rev. E. J. Wilson. St. Mark's church was crowded. The bishop spoke of the excellent work that was being done by Cecil Abbott as diocesan lay reader. A beautiful site and twenty-five acres of valuable land had been given by W. H. Bullock for a parsonage house, and $1,000 has been subscribed and $1,000 borrowed, so that a suitable house will be built immediately. Mr. Bastin has been most warmly welcomed on the island.

CONGREGATIONAL.

Men's Own Concert.—The concert given under the auspices of the Men's Own Bible Class proved very enjoyable. The evening was fine and a fair-sized audience was in attendance. The programme was a choice and much appreciated throughout. Two regrettable absences were noted, that of Mrs. W. E. Stansland and R. Morrison. N. Collins and J. G. Brown very kindly stepped into the breach. George Carter, leader of the class, sent his regrets at not being able to be present. Rev. H. A. Carson presided. The programme was contributed to by Mrs. W. A. Gleason, Miss Davis, Harold Davis, Scowcroft, Miss Davis, Harold Davis, J. O. Dunford, C. L. Haworth, Mr. Davis was accompanist.

Complimentary Concert.—On Wednesday night the complimentary social given by the Ladies' Class to the Men's Own was well attended and much enjoyed in spite of the rainy evening. A programme consisting of games, glee, singing contests, songs and speeches was given with refreshments at the close. The gentlemen in the persons of their president Mr. J. Sinclair and Mr. A. Braik thanked the ladies for the splendid entertainment.

Birthday Party.—On Monday evening next the Y. P. S. of W. W.'s have arranged for a birthday party to be given in the lecture hall beginning at 8 o'clock. A large number of invitations have been sent out and an enthusiastic response is anticipated. The young people are engaged in a very laudable task, among other things, in raising the sum of $100 for home and foreign missions, and the proceeds of this concert will be devoted to that fund. The following well known ladies and gentlemen are assisting on the programme, which promises to be of a high order: Misses Scowcroft, Scowcroft, G. Evans, Lily Palmer, W. Scowcroft, Beatrice Palmer, Messrs. Petch, Arthur Wheeler and W. Steers. Light refreshments will be served at the close.

Social Club.—At the Men's Own Social Club on Tuesday evening next Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development league, will give an address on the subject "Character." It is expected that this address will prove of great value to all who attend. The lecture is entirely free and all men are cordially welcomed.

Union Prayer Meeting.—In accordance with Y. M. C. A. and adult Bible class workers, the members of this church will engage in a union prayer meeting in this place on Wednesday evening and as far as possible on other evenings of the week. On Thursday night the subject considered at the regular prayer service will be that used by all others engaged in this world-wide circle of prayer.

Annual Bazaar.—On Nov. 23 and the afternoon of the 24th the Ladies' Aid society will hold their annual bazaar and supper in the lecture hall. For a long time the ladies have been engaged making preparations for this event. There will be many novel attractions this year, as well as the usual display of fancy and useful articles. A short programme of music and song will be given throughout the afternoon and evening. Supper will be served at 6.30 p.m.

JEWISH.

Congregation Emanu-El.

Dr. Friedlander Here.—This noted Hebrew divine has just arrived, having accepted a call to the local Jewish congregation. Dr. Friedlander comes with a reputation second to none among well known clergymen; his eloquence and earnestness having been heard and appreciated in the leading congregation of Montreal for over nine years. He was inducted into the pulpit of the synagogue Thursday evening at 7.30, when he conducted the services.

UNITARIAN.

Lecture Course.—Rev. Dr. Powers, Seattle, under the auspices of the Unitarian church, held his audience spell-bound as he expounded his subject to them in the Eagles hall Thursday night. Had the lecture been advertised and given in a large building there is no doubt the seating capacity would have proved insufficient. While going into some abstruse details of mental phenomena, the lecturer succeeded in making his presentation so simple that all might understand the different theories unfolded. Gathering his thoughts from the ancient Biblical concept of the brain being centred in the bowels or heart, to the most modern conception of the present day scientist and psychologist. The speaker showed the efforts of ancient philosophy to explain the office of the brain. The development and mental training of the child was dealt with in an intensely interesting manner.

you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the oil, it will burn for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

LAND SETTLEMENT

Ontario Has Problem to Solve Similar to That in British Columbia.

The Ontario government has under consideration a colonization policy for the Temiskaming district and the country served by the Ontario government line. It has been urged that the settling of the agricultural lands should be turned over to the Ontario railway commission.

Ever since he became chairman of the commission, J. L. Englehart has conducted a vigorous publicity campaign on behalf of the north.
Under the present arrangement, the colonization branch of the department of agriculture is held responsible for the settling of the land. But the land is under the direction of the department of lands, forests and mines, and the roads and bridges are built by the department of public works. Under the present system, the results are not any too encouraging. Instead of a stream of settlers, only occasional dribbles flow into the country.

Government officials interested have been recently discussing the turning over to the commission of all of the colonization work.

The commission has been actively calling public attention to the lands of the north. Next spring a special car will be equipped to display the products of the northland, and it will be sent from town to town, in Ontario.
The government's idea is to put down a settler on every five miles or so, along the railway. In this way, a nucleus for a settlement would be established, and districts would soon spring up.

Only aggressive work, such as that done by other railways to secure settlers for their western lands, will settle Ontario's north. It is felt, where the land has been demonstrated to be abundantly fit to support a population.

ANOTHER INSPECTION OF THE RESERVOIR

Council Instructs City Engineer to Empty Basin and Make Examination

The tenders which had been received for repairing Smith's Hill reservoir were rejected at last evening's meeting of the streets committee of the city council, and after some debate it was decided that the city engineer should be instructed to empty the big basin at once so as to make another critical examination and report back to the council, he being also empowered to secure whatever expert advice he may deem necessary in his effort to discover what is wrong and effect a remedy. The engineer's report on the tenders, which was adopted, read as follows:

Tenders were received from the following: C. G. Betts, Spokane, $5,010; Newton & Greer, Victoria, B.C., $7,900; S. Rutter, Esquimalt, B.C., $32,500. The specification given by C. G. Betts was one coat of thin paint then another coat which is composed of coal tar pitch. The specification of Newton & Greer provides for cleaning with acid, and two coats of "Nag" compound, and then two coats of "Nag-a-Damp." The specification from S. Rutter provides for lining the reservoir with from nine to twelve inches of puddle clay, and then upon this placing six inches of concrete. Clause A of the notice of advertisement stated that "the tenderer shall submit his own specification." I do not consider the specifications submitted ample or clear, and I would recommend that none of the tenders be accepted.

An interesting discussion followed the reading of the report. The mayor said he had a theory that the reservoir at 18 feet some months ago had suffered a structural injury, which might be easily repaired if the exact spot could be located. It was possible that it might not cost more than $50. In his opinion the reservoir should be emptied at once and another study made of it by the city engineer.

Ald. Humber said he knew a dozen practical men in the city who believed that the reservoir could be made watertight at a comparatively small expenditure. He believed that the proper way to proceed with the work was to do a portion of the walls and the whole of the bottom, and then make a test to see if the system being followed was likely to prove effective.

James L. Raymur, water commissioner, said it was his belief that at the time the reservoir had been filled to a height of 18 feet the great weight of water had caused something to give way and that if this weak spot could be located the damage could be easily repaired.

It was finally decided to have the engineer make another inspection of the reservoir.

SMALL DEFICIT.

Financial Statement at Annual Meeting of Nanaimo Agricultural Society.

Nanaimo, Nov. 12.—At the annual general meeting of the Nanaimo Agricultural and Horticultural Association held in the city hall, officers were elected as follows: President, Joseph Booth; Vice-president, Dr. J. H. Ross; Treasurer, E. H. Bird; Secretary, A. Sidney Tyrer.
 Directors, Peter Gordon, John Perry, Thomas Cunningham, H. Hunter, C. G. Stevens, Jno. Shaw, A. E. Mainwaring, A. E. Planta, Thos. Hodgson, E. S. Cook, William Newberry, John Dickinson, Samuel Mottishaw and Jno. Stewart.

In spite of the fact that considerable expense was incurred this year in the purchase and clearing of the grounds, constructing sheds, fences, etc., the balance sheet read at the meeting showed a deficit of only $58.85, which, deducted from the $200,000 promised by the council, leaves a net deficit of only $200, which amount it is expected will be raised by popular subscription. The society is in need of local support, with which it is expected to have exhibition buildings constructed, plans of which have been submitted to the government, in time for the next show.

PANAMA-PACIFIC FAIR.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—With subscriptions reaching $7,500,000, a state bond issue of $5,000,000 authorized and every prospect that the city of San Francisco will vote an additional $5,000,000 for the Pan-American Pacific exposition of 1915, the board of directors of the exposition corporation is preparing to name a committee to go to Washington to urge the selection by congress of San Francisco as the site of the fair.

While the state bond is issued only on the condition that San Francisco shall vote a bond issue for an equal sum, there is every prospect that the condition will be fulfilled. The bond election will be held next Tuesday and the press of the city is united in urging the voters to turn out.

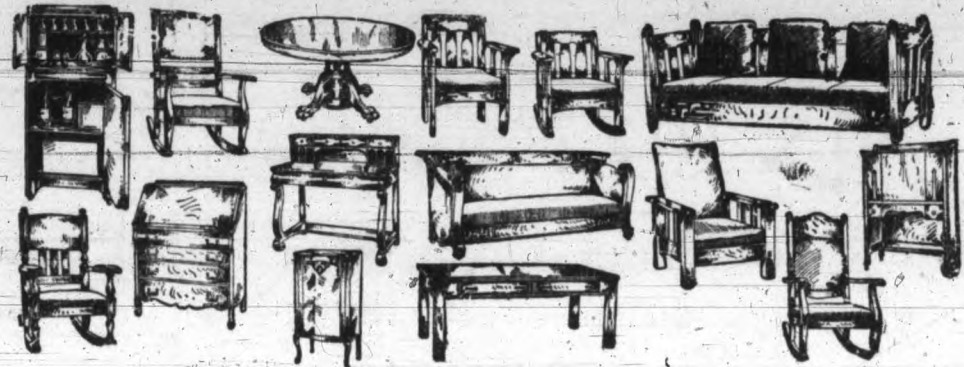

SUE'S FORMER PASTOR.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 12.—Sherman Dodge has brought suit for $10,000 against Rev. Theodore L. Dyer, former pastor of the Kennedy church. Dodge declares that the preacher has alienated the affections of Mrs. Dodge. The Dodies have been married 21 years. Mrs. Dodge left her husband last June. Subsequently Rev. Mr. Dyer was arrested on an insanity complaint but a medical commission declared that there was no evidence of insanity.

The preacher declares that he treated Mrs. Dodge only as "one of the lambs of his flock."

The Advance Man

Hyden Company.

The Hyden Comedy Company opened at the Victoria theatre this afternoon at a special matinee in the comedy, "Janet," which will also be presented to-night and on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The main bill is to be preceded by the one-act comedy by Robert Hilliard, "The Littlest Girl," a dramatization of R. H. Davis' "Her First Appearance." There should be large houses at all performances.

New Grand Theatre.

Eckhoff and Gordon, laugh-makers extraordinary, with an act full of melody and mirth are to be the prime attraction at the Grand theatre next week, in line with the Grand's policy of always having the best. Sullivan and Considine have secured this act, in fact, the whole of next week's bill, at very great expense, for the object of the well-known theatrical firm is to give Victoria the best there is in line with the other play-houses of their circuit. Eckhoff and Gordon can play any instrument ever made. They will have an assortment here and audiences are promised a turn of merit both for its music and its humorous additions.

An added attraction that will appeal strongly to labor organizations is the turn of May Mannary and company, who will appear in "The Hand That Rules," a powerful labor union drama in one act with Miss Mannary as Mabel Allison, and W. R. Dalley as John C. Peterson, mill-owner. Strong in its conception and forceful in its interpretation, "The Hand That Rules" is of special significance.

That tip-top topical songster, Billy Chase, will entertain things considerably in his mirthful way with new songs given in his own inimitable style.

Then there is more comic entertainment in the National Comiques, who are called comic conquerors and offer acrobatics for the convulsion of the people. There are three of them.

Beatrice Turner, a little lady with a delightful voice and an enormous hat, is billed, and best moving pictures and high-class illustrated song will complete the bill.

Majestic Theatre.

The strong feature of the week-end bill is a film of unusual interest, one of Edison's special Canadian dramas, entitled "More Than His Duty." The story deals with the Northwest Mounted Police and the first scene is laid in Regina. A private in the ranks is in love with his commander's daughter and is bitterly opposed by the girl's brother. The private is sent on a special mission to capture the robber who has held up the post office at Banff, and discovers after wounding the man that he is his fiancée's brother.

In order to protect her good name the private confesses to failure, but a tell-tale handkerchief explains the situation and he wins promotion and a bride. Other subjects are "Rose o' Salem Town," "Othello," "Honest Peggy," and "A Hasty Operation," the whole bill being most entertaining.

Crystal Theatre.

The programme yesterday and today is without doubt the brightest and most interesting presented here, and a big one, too. "Delightful Dolly" is the chiefest of bright comedies, jolly and refreshing, a decided winner for children and will please the little folks; "Fighting Bob" is a fine naval picture depicting details in life on a modern battleship, and "Bob" is to the front every time. "What is It?" the mysterious feature film, should not be missed. "Cohen and Murphy" give one plenty of chance to laugh at a clean, amusing subject. "Our House-maid," a rousing comic, full of animation and ridiculous situations. The music furnished to accompany these pictures is absolutely new. The rousing old naval song, "Midshipmite," rendered by Geo. McLellan, ensures a good reception.

Romano Photoplay Theatre.

The management have secured "The Little Elsie Chief" for to-day. This picture is a feature film of exceptional merit, as it has for its main part the New York fire-department in action. "In the Gray of the Dawn" is also another fine picture which is sure to be good as it is manufactured in the best equipped moving picture factory in the world, and acted by a company of the very best actors and actresses procurable. "A Russian Romance" is a picture dealing with the land of the bear, and one that will hold an audience spellbound. There will also be several other fine comedy pictures shown, Melba will sing, "I'm Pining For You," and the Romano orchestra under Prof. M. E. Rygg, will render the latest and most popular selections appropriate to the pictures.

POWER FROM CREEK

Penticton Municipality to Take Out 1,000 Horsepower Records.

Penticton, Nov. 11.—The municipal council is about to take out records on Penticton and Ellis Creek which will be a basis for supplying the town with 1,000 horsepower for power purposes. Five hundred horsepower will be developed with the installation of a domestic water service, work upon which will be commenced shortly. Five hundred horsepower will be in reserve for development when the occasion arises. F. Latimer, the municipal engineer, estimates that sufficient power may be developed from these records to fill the electrical requirements of a town four or five times as large as Penticton now is, and at the same time enough water pressure will be available for from thirty to forty hydrants, ensuring adequate fire protection.

WEALTH OF EMPIRE AT CORONATION

Magnificent Display to Be Made From Many Points—Seats Already Ordered

London, Nov. 11.—The great event of next year—the Coronation of King George V.—will be celebrated by an exhibition which will show the dominion, power and resources of the British Empire.

From India will come marvellous artisans and world-famed wonder-workers, while exhaustive specimens of her extraordinary agricultural and mineral products will be housed in exact replicas of Indian palaces. Her priceless treasures will be, for the first time, adequately set forth, and visitors will be able to see how large a part India plays in the prosperity and greatness of the British Empire. Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, the Sudan, British Guiana, Jamaica, the Fiji Islands, and others, will tell the story of their origin and extraordinary development.

For the first time in the history of the British Empire there will be seen representatives of all the races and nationalities who owe allegiance to the King, and their special industries will be reproduced.

In addition to gold-miners, back-woodsmen, and other pioneers of the Empire there will be aborigines from Australia, Maoris from New Zealand, the red Indians from the far west, the semi-civilized tribes from the Fiji Islands, colored people from the Matabele and Bechuanaland, Eskimaux from the frozen north, and Chinamen from the Malay peninsula. The homes and habits of these people, interesting, striking and strange, with their work, will be shown.

The United Kingdom, too, will take its part. The wonderful resources and open-making industries of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales will all be in evidence.

Seats for the great pageant are already being ordered, and, in the city of London, Coronation risks are already being insured against. The rate of insurance at present is from 8 to 10 per cent, but it is rapidly rising, and is expected to reach 15 to 20 per cent, before long.

The insurance is against financial loss which would ensue should the Coronation, from any cause, not take place next year. Protection can also be obtained against loss consequent upon an eleven-hour postponement to a later date in the same year. The insurance particularly concerns, of course, those who erect stands or make contracts for decorations and illuminations, etc. The present rates, it is interesting to know, are not so high as were those for King Edward. This is on account of King George's comparative youth.

RANCHER'S HOME BURNED.

Nelson, Nov. 11.—E. Gansner, the well-known rancher on the Granite road, lost his house by fire. Mr. Gansner's ranch is directly above Granite Siding and the fire was first observed from the stamp mill, from which word was telephoned to Mr. Gansner who was in the city at the time. He rode out to the scene but did not arrive soon enough to do anything. The house was a total loss, but some of the furniture was saved. Mr. Gansner, who has a family, has been ranching here about four years.

RE-SEEDING BURNED AREA.

Walla Walla, Ore., Nov. 12.—The first active work toward re-seeding the burned forest areas in eastern Oregon, has been started at the head of Bear creek by the forestry service, where a large acreage is being planted in European larch and Scotch pine. The seed-spot method is being used.

The Bear Creek burn is on the watershed of Walla Walla's water supply. The seeding method consists of digging seed spots six feet apart each way and planting the tree seeds. While the loss of seed in this manner is a large percentage, it is declared one of the most economical ways of reforesting burned over areas.

LIGHTSHIP HERE.

The Sandheads lightship is in port after having lost 60 fathoms of chain and an anchor during a recent gale. The lightship will be overhauled and in the meantime the Newington will attempt to recover the lost gear. Capt. O'Brien is in charge of the lightship, which was formerly the local schooner Mermala, and has one assistant, George Lindell.

UNDER THE BAN.

Use of Forty-Three Species of Plumage Now Prohibited in United States.

That the plumage of 43 species of birds formerly used to decorate women's hats can no longer be sold by the milliners of the state of New York was reported at the annual meeting of the National Association of Audubon Societies held at the American museum of natural history.

In describing the effects of the Shearbird protective bill passed by the last legislature, T. Gilbert Pearson, the secretary of the association, said:

"Some time after the passage of this law certain of the large millinery interests, through their attorneys, requested attorneys of the forest, fish and game department, to let them know just what plumage of birds they could use in their business in the future, and what was prohibited. They sent with this request about one hundred and one specimens for examination."

"The department employed as expert ornithologist Waldron De Witt Miller, of the American Museum of Natural History. He reported that under the provisions of the law forty-three species of birds, the plumage of which was submitted, could not legally be sold. Among these were the green heron, two species of night heron, the screech owl, skylark, spout and white tern, pelican, scarlet tanager, Bohemian wax wing, swift magpie, snowy bunting, condor and jay."

SUFFERED FOR YEARS WITH STOMACH TROUBLE

"Fruit-a-tives" Promptly Cured Him

DANIEL SAUNDERS, ESQ.

Mr. Daniel Saunders, of Shoal Lake, Manitoba, is one of the best known gentlemen in Canada's great wheat country. He lived for years in the West—made a success of his farming—and has now retired from active business life to enjoy the fruits of his work. When a man of such financial and social standing voluntarily testifies to the great benefits he has received from taking "Fruit-a-tives" there can be no doubt but that "Fruit-a-tives" deserves the confidence of every reader of this paper.

Shoal Lake, Man.,

June 11th, 1910.

"For years I was bothered with persistent Dyspepsia and indigestion, having severe pains after meal time. I tried everything that I could get but the pain in my stomach became no better."

"Last summer Mr. Outway, a druggist of my town, recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' to me. While taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' I in no way gave up any foods that I was in the habit of eating, neither did I stop smoking. Yet in spite of all, 'Fruit-a-tives' has done wonders for me and I strongly advise all my friends to use it."

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

VENGEANCE.

My neighbor did an evil trick that put me badly in the hole; his villainy made me pretty sick, and jarred the texture of my soul. I said: "Of this, friends, make a note, and paste it in your Sunday hats: Some time, some place I'll get his goat, as sure as whisks grow on cats." Then vengeful projects filled my dreams, by day they flitted through my brain; I thought-up fifty frightful schemes to make my neighbor's life a pain. One evening when the lights were dim, I wandered forth to plan some more, and met a stranger tall and grim, who in his hand a bludgeon bore; and he had other lethal tools; he cried in tones that made me shake: "I am the man who butchers fools—is there defence that you would make? I've studied fools a thousand years—of fools I claim to be a judge; the biggest fool in all these spheres is he who holds a fooling grudge. His thoughts are all of bootless strife, of doing harm to other men; he shuts the sunshine from his life, and wallows in his gloomy den. O chump, poor chump, your life is short, and you're a fool to tear your hair, and sidestep all the jocular sport, and plan cheap vengeance in your lair."

FIGHT BETWEEN POLICE AND ROBBERS

Robbery in Saloon Results in Battle in Which Six Men
Are Wounded

Chicago, Nov. 12.—One man is dying and five others are severely wounded, two probably fatally, following a battle yesterday between police and hold-up men in the little suburb of Cicero, just west of the city limits.

The fight followed the attempt of three highwaymen to rob the saloon of Louis Belmont. They entered the place in daylight and ordered the proprietor to throw up his hands. Instead, Belmont reached under the bar for a revolver. One of the bandits struck him over the head with a club and Belmont fell to the floor. The robbers opened fire, wounding the proprietor of the saloon and two other men, Fred Kop and Miles Kohler, who were in the place when the holdup men entered. The bandits then rifled the cash register, two of them opening it and taking out the money while the third, with drawn revolver, guarded the entrance. Only a small sum of money was secured.

The three robbers hastened out of the saloon and started down the street on a run. Patrolmen Kakowsky and Kane saw the man running and ordered them to stop. Instead of obeying, the highwaymen increased their speed and Kane fired at them. The robbers turned and shot at the two officers, wounding Kane. Kane continued firing at them until his revolver was empty. One of the bandits fell fatally wounded and is reported dying at the hospital. Another clapped his hand to his breast and it is believed he was hit by a bullet but he kept on running.

The two robbers who escaped had the money taken from the saloon. The wounded robber has not been identified by the police.

WATER RATES RAISED AT PRINCE RUPERT

Cost of Maintenance of System Placed at $13,000
a Year

Prince Rupert, Nov. 11.—The water rates in the city are to be increased according to the decision reached by the council. The following scale of charges for water was adopted:

Each family using a public stand pipe will pay, per year, $6; the occupants of four rooms or less will pay $12; the tenants of five rooms or over will pay $18. The public bath rate is the same. Boarding houses, restaurants and hotels without bars will pay $20; hotels with bars, $50.

In the discussion on the revised rates Ald. Hilditch objected that the small householders would have to pay more than his equivalent. His objection was not sustained and the revised report was adopted.

The report included some other items dealing with the estimated cost of operating the existing waterworks system. Assuming the cost of the works will be $90,000, to be paid in twenty equal annual payments, the debentures bearing 4-1/2 per cent interest.

As for the cost of maintenance, it is estimated that the annual payment on debentures will be $6,918, the foreman $1,440, caretaker of dams and pump engineer $1,080, two laborers $1,800, bookkeeping and superintendence $1,100, pumphouse supplies and repairs $282, the whole total cost of maintenance yearly being $13,000.

GUIDES FOR AVIATORS NOW BEING PLANNED

Immense Signs Necessary—
Growth of Aviation Creates
New Industries

The experience of Hamilton on his New York-Philadelphia-New York flight, and Hoxey on his way to St. Louis, when the aviators lost their way, emphasizes the need of sign posts, or guides for aviators. Attempts to solve this problem were made some time ago in Germany, where the names of towns were painted on the roofs of houses, but this proved unsatisfactory, owing to the fact that except in the case of towns with few letters in their names a sign could not be read more than a few hundred feet, necessitating the flier descending from higher levels to read them. Through the efforts of Dr. von Oechelhäuser, a German, a code of signals has been devised, in which countries and provinces are numbered and towns designated by two letters. His code will be introduced at the next meeting of the International Federation. Dr. Oechelhäuser uses, as far as possible, the tops of gas tanks for painting the letters and figures upon. These are first painted black, and the numbers and letters in white can be read for a mile or more. At Dusseldorf, in Anhalt, for instance, a large tank has been marked with the number of the province, 175, in letters 33 feet high or wide. On another tank is the literal sign of the town, in characters nearly 30 feet wide. These letters have been read in not very clear weather from a balloon 1300 feet up in the air.

The increase in the number of aeroplanes promises to create a considerable trade in the supply of cloth for these machines. The cloths at present in use are mostly fine cambrics of Egyptian or Sea Island cotton along with some lincens. They are treated before use with rubber upon one or both faces, and weigh in general about four and a half ounces per square yard of the finished state. One fabric of this weight is three-ply with rubber

Wainwright

THE BUFFALO TOWN OF THE GOLDEN WEST

A Second Saskatoon What Home Folks Think Building for the Future

From the Wainwright Star, Sept. 22, 1910.
On the 14th day of August last, the order-in-council incorporating Wainwright as a town took effect, and another milestone in the brief but remarkable history of the place was reached.
The next stage will be incorporation as a city, and if the citizens work together in a spirit of unity and keep pushing for settlement, and reaching out for industries, it will not be many years before this step can be taken. Wainwright is situated in the heart of a very fertile district, and is a railway centre of importance. On the east there is no city nearer than Saskatoon, and on the west Edmonton is the nearest centre of importance. Why should Wainwright not become a second Saskatoon? A branch line is to be built from here, which will mean the concentration of more train crews here, and will make this a distributing centre for the villages that will spring up along the line. Already quite a few big concerns have made this a distributing point for a considerable territory.

From Saskatoon to Edmonton is 325 miles. In all this distance Wainwright leads-day in population, and there is no reason why it should not be a second Saskatoon in population and business.

Think what this should mean to those who buy property now in Wainwright. Saskatoon in 1906 had a population of 3,011. Now it has 12,000. In 1906 Saskatoon was about six years old. Wainwright is only two years old, and has a population of 1,000, which is more than Saskatoon had at the end of its second year.

It is not unreasonable to expect that Wainwright, with practically every advantage that Saskatoon enjoys, and some that it does not, should in a few years have a population as large as Saskatoon has now.
A few years ago lots could be bought in Saskatoon as cheaply as they can be bought in Wainwright to-day. These same lots in Saskatoon have multiplied in value several times. If Wainwright should become a second Saskatoon, those who buy lots there now, will make a profit of from 100 to 1,000 per cent on their investment in a few years.

Big Yields in Wainwright District

Eighty-five bushels of oats to the acre—27 to 37 bushels of wheat to the acre—these are some of the yields in the Wainwright District this year. J. H. Mills, who homesteaded the northernmost 1-1/2 sec. 24-6, a field of wheat on the same farm averaged 27 bushels to the acre. A farmer near Adamson near Wainwright had 30 acres of wheat, a 12-acre cement roundhouse, and a 12-acre cement roundhouse. In view of the fact that in many sections of Western Canada the grain crops were exceptionally light this year, these yields prove the superiority of the Wainwright District. More breaking is being done in this district this year than ever before, and next year's acreage of grain will be the largest in the history of the district. This means a big increase in Wainwright's trade. It is announced that work will begin soon on the railway bridge over the Battle River near Wainwright. This will bring to Wainwright the trade of a large and prosperous community which is now cut off from the town a good part of the year by the river. Minnesota parties are now negotiating for the purchase of 10,000 acres in the Wainwright district to be settled with farmers from the States in the early spring. If the land is secured it will all be broken up at once.

Why These Lots Are Offered for Sale

The Townsite of Wainwright was laid out about two years ago by the Grand Trunk Pacific and lots were offered for sale. The railroad had selected improvements, including 14 miles of sidetrack, a 12-stall cement roundhouse, repair shops, and office buildings for division officials. The town was not extensively advertised, and the lots were sold for the most part to those who through a personal visit or through friends became convinced of the town's future. The G. T. P. retained a considerable amount of land adjoining the original townsite on three sides in order to provide for the town's future growth. It has now for the first time platted a portion of this land and just across the street from the new $18,000 public school. The lots in this subdivision are being offered at low prices, the object being to promote the growth of the town rather than to get the largest amount of money possible for the lots. What the Grand Trunk Pacific desires most to accomplish by putting these lots on the market is to make room for the natural growth of the town in the direction in which it will logically grow, attract people to Wainwright and thus increase the freight and passenger traffic into and out of the town. It has been the policy of the G. T. P. to sell its property at a low price and give the people who buy it and then carry it out at Wainwright, and the people who buy these lots will share in the growth of the town and the advance in realty values, as the purchasers of lots two years ago when the townsite was first laid out have shared in its growth up to this time. By purchasing lots from the Grand Trunk Pacific, you take no risk whatever. It is different from buying from irresponsible parties.

Of the 30 odd employees of the Grand Trunk Pacific who make Wainwright their headquarters, one-half are owners of Wainwright real estate. Eight of them, including the station agent, one engineer, two firemen, a postal clerk and a foreman, have bought lots within the past few days, and expect to build on them next year.

Seventy per cent of the citizens of Wainwright own their own homes. During 1910 upwards of 100 new buildings were erected at a total cost of upwards of $150,000, an average of $1,500 each. They included a number of residences costing from $2,500 to $3,500 each.

When home folks do not hesitate to invest their money in real estate and improvements it is pretty safe for non-residents to make investments in that town. A live, growing town like Wainwright is the town in which to invest for big, quick profits.

Wainwright Lots Selling Rapidly

The demand for Wainwright lots has far exceeded our expectations. During the first week after Wainwright department was opened, without a single advertisement having been published, and as the result of only a few hundred circulars having been sent out, we received orders for lots in the GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC TOWNSITE aggregating $15,000. A week ago advertisements were inserted in 10 of the leading daily newspapers of the Dominion, and as a result hundreds of inquiries are being received for information regarding Wainwright. This advertisement will appear to-day in upwards of fifty of the leading papers of Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver. Those who wish to secure good lots should not wait to ask for information, but wire at our expense instructions to reserve one or more lots, stating price. We will immediately confirm the order by wire, giving numbers of best lots available at the price. Remittance of at least one-tenth the purchase price should be forwarded immediately on receiving our confirmation of the purchase in order to insure that the lots will be reserved for you. This is a rare opportunity to buy at a low price property that will increase rapidly in value as the town grows. It is an opportunity that will not wait. Take advantage of it by wiring your reservation of lots TO-DAY.

between the gossamer. Its tensile strength is quoted loosely "per yard," and given as 3,000 pounds warp and 2,400 pounds weft. Makers attach much importance to the strength and lightness of their fabrics, and to their non-absorptive properties. The gain in weight in a saturated atmosphere is from 6 to 12 per cent in the case of the popular make. The prices of the different sorts and makes of cloth differ widely and in about 40 in goods the aviator has a choice of rubberized fabrics costing between 35 cents and $2.75 a yard. Standardized light cloth may be bought for models, and cloth suitable for treatment with boiled oil is sold for man-carrying machines.

A sheet of water-tight cloth, thick and strong in area weighs 101 tons.

Confident that the population of the town will increase rapidly in the future as it has in the past, the people of Wainwright are building for the future, rather than for the present. The town council, in planning public improvements, keeps the future growth of the town constantly in view. Wainwright was the first town on the G. T. P. between Saskatoon and Edmonton to put down cement sidewalks. It now has half a mile of cement sidewalk in the business section. It is now just completing one of the finest and most expensive public school buildings in any of the new towns between Winnipeg and Edmonton—a two-story, basement and attic brick building containing four class rooms, two music and chemical rooms, a teachers room, and two large indoor playrooms for the pupils, the whole costing $18,000. The school grounds occupy one entire block 300 by 500 feet.

A sidewalk has just been completed from the business section to the school, at a cost of $1,500. The town council recently appropriated $2,000 for the construction of four fire cisterns, each 10 feet square and 35 feet deep, to be filled with water for fire protection. The council is now planning to build a Town Hall and Fire Headquarters to cost $15,000 to $20,000. It is also planned to build a large rink for indoor ice skating and for hockey and curling matches.

Wainwright doesn't do anything by halves. The citizens believe in the town's future and in making provisions for it. Certainly the town's growth in the past and the influences back of it justify their faith in it.

Nearly a Thousand Buffalo Now at Wainwright

Recent additions to the herd of buffalo in the National Buffalo Park at Wainwright has brought the total number in the herd up to upwards of 930. Of these 150 are calves born in 1910. There are still about 50 head on the Public Ranch in Montana, remnant of the herd purchased by the Dominion Government. They include 35 "outlaw" bulls which it has been impossible so far to round up. Another roundup will be made in the near future, and as many of the remnant of the herd as possible will be captured and shipped to Wainwright. The remainder will be run down and killed for their heads and hides. A buffalo head, mounted, is valued at $600, and a good buffalo robe is valued at $150. A number of sportsmen, including Mayor Pawling and L. Forster of Wainwright, will go to Montana to participate in this last buffalo hunt on the continent. Each of the hunters will pay $250 for the privilege of assisting in running down the "outlaws."

Howard Douglas, Government Commissioner of Parks, who superintended the removal of the buffalo from Montana to Wainwright recently predicted that Wainwright would continue to grow rapidly in population. The Dominion Government, he said, would advertise the town through its National Buffalo Park, which would attract many people to Wainwright.

How Money is Made in Town Lots

A couple of weeks ago we sold three lots in Wainwright to a Winnipeg barber for $200 each—one-tenth cash and the remainder in nine monthly payments without interest. Since then the town council has planned to build a $15,000 to $20,000 Town Hall on the same street and within a block of these lots. The building of this Town Hall will add at least 50 per cent to the value of the three lots. It is safe to say that the owner will be able to realize a profit of 50 to 100 per cent on these lots before he has completed his payments on them. As he does not pay any interest on the deferred payments, and will not have to pay any taxes on the lots until 1912, it is easy to figure that he has made an exceptionally good investment. But if he had waited a few weeks he would have lost this opportunity for big profit, because if we had these lots for sale now we would not sell them at $200.

Every day counts in these growing Western Canada towns. New industries are being established, public improvements are being planned and something is happening every day that adds to the value of real estate. The time to buy is NOW—TO-DAY. To-morrow the lot which you can buy to-day for $100 to $150 may be worth 50 to 100 per cent more. You cannot make a mistake by investing in Grand Trunk Pacific lots in Wainwright. They are in the section of the town which, because of its location with most popular. They are high and level, overlooking the business section and the railroad yards, and convenient to school and churches, and within a few minutes' walk of the business centre. Sidewalks have been constructed and streets graded right up to the sub-division. Wainwright is one of the leading Divisional points on the Main Line of the Grand Trunk Pacific; has the National Buffalo Park, has immediately tributary to it one of the richest farming districts in the Dominion, and is already a wholesale distributing centre of importance. It is bound to continue to be the leading town between Saskatoon and Edmonton. As it grows in population—real estate values will advance. Now is the time, and Wainwright is the place to invest for big, quick profits.

Guided by the results of experience the makers of the latest type of Voisin biplane are, like several other firms of builders, notably the Wright brothers, replacing the front elevation rudder by a movable plane at the extremity of the tail. It has been found that with the front elevator rudder there was the possibility of air currents striking the main planes, more head resistance, and, therefore, reduced speed, and a more circumscribed field of vision on the part of the pilot. The more recent arrangement will, it is believed, obviate these drawbacks.

Every such cheque shall be made payable to the order of the person to whom it is sent, and payment of the cheque shall be a satisfaction of the interest.

18. The receipt of any registered holder of any stock shall be as effective a discharge to the Corporation as if the person were the sole registered holder.

19. If any certificate be worn out or defaced, then upon production thereof to the Corporation the same may be cancelled, and a new certificate be issued in lieu thereof. In case of loss, then upon proof to the satisfaction of the Corporation, or, on default of any proof, on such indemnity, as the Corporation deem adequate being given, a new certificate may be issued in lieu of the old one. A BY-LAW

To Raise $50,000 for Fire Purposes.

Whereas it is necessary to raise the sum of $50,000 for the purpose of giving additional fire protection to the City of Victoria by means of new fire halls and additional equipment:

And whereas the whole rateable land and improvements or real property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria, according to the last rated Assessment Roll for the year 1910, was $32,089,927.

And whereas the total amount required to be raised annually by rate for paying the debt which will be created hereunder and the interest thereon, and for creating an annual sinking fund for the payment off of the said debt within twenty-five years, according to law, is $3,290.60.

And whereas it will require an annual rate of 1.191 of one mill on the dollar for paying the new debt and interest:

And whereas this By-law may not be altered or repealed except with consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council of the Province of British Columbia, previously had and obtained:

Therefore the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria by way of the registered debenture stock, hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons, or body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same, such sum as may be necessary for such of the following purposes as may be necessary, and for none other, namely:

body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, the sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $50,000 gross, currency or sterling money, at the rate of 4.86 2/3 dollars to the one pound sterling, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purposes and with the object hereinafter recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued for such sums as may be required, as aforesaid, either in currency or sterling money at the rate aforesaid, each of the said debentures being of the amount of $1,000, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

3. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council in their discretion to alternatively cause each of the said debentures to be made, executed and issued for an amount of £100 sterling and one, if necessary, for a less sum in sterling money to complete the authorized issue.

4. The said debentures shall bear date of the day after the final passing of this By-law, and shall be payable in twenty-five years from said date, at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be designated thereon, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest, and the signature of the interest coupons may be either written, stamped, printed, lithographed or engraved.

5. The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly, on the 21st day of January and 21st day of July, at such place in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be expressed in the debenture and coupon.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to cause the said debenture and interest coupons, either in whole or in part, to be made payable at such place, either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America, as may be desired.

7. It shall be lawful for the Mayor and Council of the said Corporation to dispose of the said debentures at a rate below par, and to authorize the Treasurer to pay out of the sums so raised by the sale of the said debentures, all expenses connected with the preparation and engraving or lithographing of the debentures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of the said debentures.

8. If deemed advisable by the Mayor and Council there shall, in the said debentures, be reserved to the Corporation the right upon any future consolidation of the debenture stock of the City of Victoria to substitute debentures of such consolidation secured upon the credit of the City generally.

9. Such consolidated debentures shall contain the like covenants, conditions and restrictions, as are contained in the debentures issued in pursuance of this By-law, and in each debenture issued hereunder a clause conditional for such substitution may be inserted.

10. For the purpose of raising annually the required sum for the payment of the interest on the said debentures, there shall be raised annually the sum of $2,000, and for the payment off of the debt at maturity there shall be raised annually the sum of $1,290.60, and both said sums shall be raised annually by a rate sufficient therefor on all rateable land and improvements or real property in the City of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures, or any of them.

11. This By-law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided for in the Municipal Clauses Act, and shall take effect on the day after the final passing thereof.

12. This By-law may be cited as the "1910 Fire Protection By-law, 1910."

HAVE AGENCY FOR

PARSONS' TURBINE

Hon. C. A. Parsons Makes an Agreement With B. C. Marine Railway Co.

An announcement of more than usual interest has been made by the B. C. Marine Railway Company, following a conference between the B. C. Marine Railway Company, managing director of the Parsons Marine Steam Turbine Company. By the terms of an agreement made with Mr. Parsons the Esquimalt shipbuilding firm will have the sole right of manufacturing Parsons turbines in this province.

The arrangement between the B. C. Marine Railway Company and the famous English inventor is significant in view of the fact that the local shipbuilding firm intends to bid for the construction of vessels for Canada's navy. Mr. Parsons, who is the inventor of the turbine which bears his name and which has been adapted for both mercantile and war vessels, has proceeded to San Francisco.

It is understood that G. J. Desbarats, deputy minister of the naval department, will make an inspection of the Esquimalt shipyards while in the city.

NEW PILOT SELECTED.

Out of five candidates for the position on the pilot staff of Victoria and Esquimalt, left vacant by the resignation of Capt. S. W. Buckman, the pilotage authority has selected Capt. Charles J. Harris for the position. It is expected that the appointment will be officially ratified in a few days' time. There were many applications for the appointment, but only four, in addition to Capt. Harris, were eligible, these being Capt. Whiteley, of the steamer Princess Beatrice; Capt. Stratford, chief officer of the steamer Prince George; Capt. Bisset and Capt. Elton. Capt. Harris has been on this coast since the early '80's, and was for years successfully engaged in the sealing business. Of recent years he has been in command of the B. C. Salvage Company's steamer Salvor.

GRIGGS WON RACE.

In a letter published in a Sound newspaper, Capt. Sterling, of the six-masted Victoria barkentine Everett G. Griggs, states that the race between his vessel and the American ship Abner Coburn was won by the Griggs. The latter vessel was off Natal long before the Coburn arrived, 100 days from the Sound according to Capt. Sterling. In all 24 days were consumed in getting from Natal to Deleaga Bay in which the Griggs anchored on September 20

CHRIST'S CHURCH AND ITS FUTURE

TENDENCIES AND ACTIVITIES OF DAY

Rev. William Stevenson's Thoughtful Address at Recent Conference

"The Church, Its Future," was the title of an able address delivered at the sixth autumn association meeting of the Canadian Northwest Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers, in connection with the Reformed Episcopal churches of British Columbia, recently held in the Church of Our Lord, Reformed Episcopal by Rev. William Stevenson, of Emmanuel Baptist church. The address was as follows:

We can I think form a fairly good idea of the future of the church, by looking at the church as it is at present, and especially by considering the direction in which it is moving. The church, like every other institution, always reveals certain tendencies in its operations. For example, at the present time the churches are showing a greater interest in matters affecting the social welfare of the people, especially as regards the economic conditions by which their lives are governed. There is, again, a great and increasing interest in missionary enterprise, Sunday school work, temperance, moral and social reform. The promotion of peace and better international relations; these are samples of well defined tendencies in the church of today, and there are others equally significant. When you look at these things you will agree that it does not need great power of foresight to tell in what direction the church is moving and what she is likely to be and to do in the immediate future.

But after all, these are only tendencies. They are tendencies, movements; but they are not the great elemental spiritual forces which constitute her life's blood. Behind these tendencies and movements there are certain great ideals, or truths, and principles which the church inherits, and of which she is the custodian. You will understand what I mean when I remind you that the tendencies of the church have not always been in the same direction; the church has not always been alive to the need for social regeneration, or for missions, or work among the young. But she has always carried with her certain great spiritual truths and forces with which she has been entrusted. These are what we call the great abiding truths of Jesus Christ; these are what constitute the church's endowment for service. They are the talents with which she has been entrusted to go forth and do spiritual business among men. They are the good seed of the kingdom which are sown in the field of the world. It is these forces which give the church power; and it is these forces which are seeking expression in all the varying tendencies and movements which we see in the church of today.

Now the point which I wish to make clear is this. Look at those tendencies, consider those forces; ask how is the church employing the forces with which God has entrusted her? how far is she seeking to give faithful and full expression to the great essential principles of the gospel of Jesus Christ? How far is she actuated by the spirit of Christ; and to what extent does she truly represent His passion for truth and righteousness, His unselfish love of men and His readiness to sacrifice Himself in their interests? Then you can pretty well forecast what the church of the future will be.

Forces and Influences.
Of course there are other forces and influences to be considered. There are those strange upheavals called revivals; there are great silent undercurrents of forces which are seemingly at work in other directions; there are the influences of science; of material conditions; of wealth, war, social upheavals, amusements, new emotions, new discoveries and new ideas; all of which affect in one way or another the complexion of the church's life.

But even when allowance for all these influences is made, we can see to some extent what the church is likely to be and at least what she can be if she is only true to her mission. Take the early church for an example. The early church, as you know, was practically without organization for a considerable time. But it possessed certain great truths and principles. It has the good news of the teaching of Jesus and above all it has, as its greatest asset, the consciousness of the presence of Christ. The idea that Jesus Christ was still with them, and in them, was the outstanding feature of the life of those early days. It was the consciousness of His presence that inspired them and made them irresistible in their mission. We all know something of how the early church lived and suffered and how it revealed itself as a mighty force for the uplifting of humanity and the erection of a new social organization. In his recent book on "Christianity and the Social Crisis," Dr. Rauschenbusch of Rochester, calls attention to the tremendous social changes brought about by the primitive Christian church. He shows how Christianity brought with it a new spirit and a new set of principles and ideals; which soon began to permeate the Empire and which, wherever they went, revolutionized existing ideals and institutions. Christianity insisted on brotherhood; but it was not simply the culture of the faculty of love. It brought with it a strong leaven of democracy and protest which unsettled men. It created social interest and carried disturbance in its train. It affected the ideas and status of women, and introduced new ideals of life and liberty, and spoke in a way which made even the slaves think. It awakened the slaves to a sense of worth and longing for freedom which made slavery doubly irksome and strained their relations to their masters. It disturbed the patriotism and loyalty of citizens for their country and intervened between the sovereign state and its subjects. The church was the means of these and other great changes and she did the means of them because of her faith in the spirit of Christ. And the truth which He had committed to her. It was not because her organization that she achieved these results; it was not because she consciously and deliberately aimed at such results; but because of the spirit that was in her, and to which she abandoned herself freely; and because she declared the truth and stood for it without compromise.

Prime Qualifications.

What the church will be in the future and what its course will be depends on how far she possesses or does not possess these prime qualifications and endowments. If she possesses them in any measure she will go on from strength to strength; if she lacks them she will go down in failure. The great spiritual forces with which she is entrusted and how those forces have operated in the past; what can we say with regard to the future of the church?

First—The church of the future will have a truer and more perfect knowledge of Jesus Christ and of the significance of His earthly life. It may be said, I think without fear, that our knowledge of Jesus has been enormously increased during the past 75 years. It is just 75 years since Dr. Strauss issued his book on the life of Jesus; a book which felt like a thunderbolt upon the Christian world. Since that time there has been more attention given to the study of the life of Jesus than during all the previous centuries, and our scholars and students are still busy. They are still busy trying to get behind and beneath the wonderful and beautiful stories which come to us of His life. And the thing which men are emphasizing about those stories and traditions to-day is not so much their forms and expressions, or the theories which surround them; but the great and wonderful life itself. We have come to understand better what is meant when it is said: "In Him was light and the light was the light of men." Our knowledge of Him as He is revealed in those brief documents is less clouded and obscured by theories about the documents themselves. We do not feel that it is incumbent upon us to worry about the genealogical tables of His birth; or to try to reconcile and explain all the literal difficulties that crop up. When we open these gospels we look for Him; for the revelation of His spirit, His love and His marvellous power. We look for Him not with the critical eyes of the head but with the eyes of the heart, and we believe we have less difficulty in finding Him and coming near to Him. In the church of the future this power to see Him as He is in the gospels and to present Him to men as He was during His earthly ministry will be greater and richer than ours. I believe the church will come to have such a knowledge of Jesus that it will no longer deal in dogmatic declarations about Him or threaten men if they fail to believe this or that thing about Him; but will present Him to the world with so sincere and benignant a conception of the beauty and grandeur of His nature and of His essential oneness with humanity that when men refuse Him they will know and feel that their refusal is the pronouncement of their own failure.

Second—The church of the future will be characterized by a more intense consciousness of the Christ spirit and this will be to a large extent because the church will know Him better. But there is another reason. I said a little while ago that the great asset of the early church was the consciousness of the presence of Christ among them. He was with them and in them, working through them. This was their great dynamic. He was the wonderful personality who moved in majesty amidst the seven golden candlesticks. He it was who added to the church such as were being saved. He it was who stood by the lonely martyr and held him up in his dying agony. He had gone from them but He was still with them as the mighty power that carried the work forward to its triumph. Now I believe this Christ consciousness has come back to us in some measure in our day, but I believe it will come back in greater measure in the future and my reason for believing this is not merely because this is fundamentally and almost solely the true divine equipment of the church, but for this reason—very soon the church will have no other asset than this. During the last fifty years or more, the church has had to give up many of her ancient dogmas. During the last twenty years or even ten years she has felt her grip loosening on others. The church has been unable to help herself. She has had to make concessions. She has been compelled to surrender positions and views of doctrine which at one time seemed to be her greatest treasures. But with every surrender of the unessential and the transient she has felt herself forced back upon her real resources. She has in word been driven back to her master.

Dogmas on the Shelf.

I believe this is the position, more than ever to-day. There are some things we have ceased to preach. There are some dogmas which we have had at least to put on the shelf, but in the process of changing we believe we have come nearer to a realization that the church's greatest asset is her Lord and Saviour; that He is her glory; that He is not only her head but her heart; that it is her chief business to proclaim Him and try to live Him.

Here is where I believe the church is moving at present. She is having the gaudy jewels in which she trusted taken from her. She is losing ground in the confidence of many of the people, but she is tightening her grip on the hand of her Lord and seeking a larger endowment of His spirit. And if she does not possess this in larger measure in the future she will go down. She will have nothing else to give the people. Here and there individual churches realizing their loss and their poverty, may sink down and become caters of Sunday evening concerts and other amusements, but these cannot last. The real church, the church of God, will turn to Christ and will become so filled with His spirit and live His life that she will be able to say: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Christ; I and the Christ are one; and the work that He hath given me to do that I do."

Third—The church of the future will be more spiritual and more practical. When I speak of spiritual I do not mean the old miserable conception of spirituality associated with long faces and dyspeptic dispositions, but just in the sense in which Jesus was spiritual, and in the sense in which every robust life is spiritual. To be spiritual is to be mindful of the things of the Spirit and of the spirit of good which is everywhere present in the world. And because the church will be distinguished for this robust spirituality, she will be above everything else practical. She will not preach but she will work. She will not call it work merely to get up little concerts and tea parties and anaemic theatricals. She will go out into the larger life of humanity. She will abandon the old medieval notion of a cloistered religion. She will give up her theological squabbles together with her insistence upon the endless hairsplitting about dogmas. The routine of sermon-making will pass away for a sensible effort to teach the great neglected truths of life and present day experience. The church of the future will in this respect follow the example of the Master who so thoroughly identified Himself with humanity that it was said of Him, "Himself took our infirmities and bare our sicknesses." The church must do the same or perish.

Church and Society.

"If society continues to disintegrate and decay," says Dr. Rauschenbusch, "the church will go down with it. If the church can rally such moral forces that injustice will be overcome, and fresh red blood will course in a sounder social organism, it will itself rise to higher liberty and life. Doing the will of God it will have new visions of God. With a new message will come a new authority. If the salt lose its salthood it will be trodden underfoot."

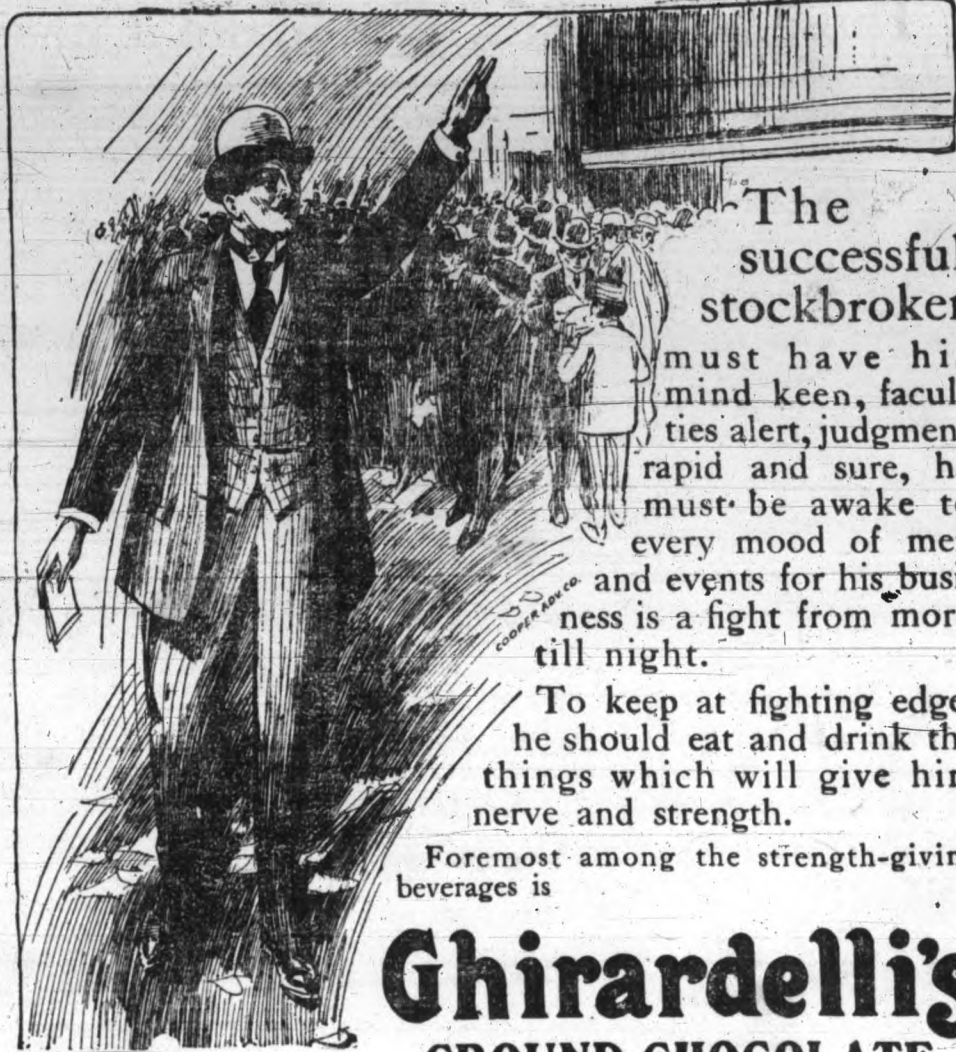

The indications are that the church will rise to the opportunity and will become a mighty social factor. It will identify itself with the whole life of the people in the senate, the legislature, the club, the playground, the school, the college, the workshop, and the hospital. It will no longer hold itself aloof from the affairs of the common life, saying that these things are secular whilst these are sacred; for everything that concerns human life is sacred.

Can we not say that even already these things are coming to pass? Are not the churches bestirring themselves? Are they not more deeply interested in social questions and trying it may be in a blundering way to deal with our great social diseases? And yet with all that she is doing, and all the interest she is displaying, she is only at the beginning of this great field of service. She has yet to interest herself as never before in the problems of capital and labor, to enunciate the great principles which must direct in their solution. She has yet to turn her eyes toward the prison cell as she has not heretofore done; must take the lead in enunciating the true principles of justice from the standpoint of Jesus. She has yet to lead the way in dealing with the social wrongs that lie at the root of the white slave traffic and other gigantic evils. In a word, there are infinite things which the church may yet do and which she will do in the future. Either she must do these things or die. There are only two possibilities before the church, says Dr. Rauschenbusch, "the church must either condemn the world and seek to change it, or tolerate it and conform to it. In the latter case it surrenders its holiness and mission. The other possibility has never yet been tried with full faith on a large scale. All the leadings of God in contemporary history and all the promptings of His spirit in our hearts lead us to the belief that this choice is staked the future of the church."

Unity and Organization.

Fourth—The church of the future will be characterized by greater unity and organized co-operative effort. Union is already in the air and some of the great denominations are drawing together. Before very long there will be a federation of all the churches of the Protestant faith. Even the Baptist, who will persist in standing on the other side of the stream inviting his friends to join him, will fall into line and allow himself to become part of the great confederation of Christian effort. This will mean a tremendous accession of strength to the church. We are weak when we are divided, but strong when united. God can do infinitely greater and grander work through a vast army of men and women whose souls are bound together in the unity of the spirit. All this is fast coming. By and by other churches will join. By and by it will be the Anglican, the Roman and the Greek churches, and these will all work to advance the kingdom of God. Such things may appear impossible at present, but there is no church for which the greater things are impossible where there is the need of the life of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

So far as this country is concerned this idea of federal union presents a consummation to be greatly desired. At present we are living in a state of unhealthy rivalry. There is no man but must at times feel ashamed of the spectacle which we present to the world. We cannot blame men for this, but through a variety of causes the churches are engaged in a vulgar competition which reduces them to the level of religious stores. We know how much this means of waste in men

The successful stockbroker must have his mind keen, faculties alert, judgment rapid and sure, he must be awake to every mood of men and events for his business is a fight from morn till night.

To keep at fighting edge, he should eat and drink the things which will give him nerve and strength.

Foremost among the strength-giving beverages is which nourishes without stimulation, calms the nerves, and is the finest food for brain and muscle.

Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is as good for the growing child as it is for the full grown man, for the sturdy and for the delicate. It contains more nutriment than any other food.

It is exquisite in flavor, smooth, rich and absolutely pure.

and money and spiritual forces, and how it erects barriers between the different divisions of God's great army. The church of the future will be freed from all this rivalry and inefficiency and poverty of spirit. For the prayer of Christ must one day be answered when there shall be one flock, even as there is one shepherd.

The church of the future will reveal many other noble qualities which it is impossible to dwell upon here. She will, among other things, show greater courage in the delivery of her message; but it will be the courage of love; she will not be the enemy of science, but the friend and comrade; she will not be so much doctrinal as practical; not so dependent upon organization as upon life; not powerful so much because of her ornate services, her music, her art or her oratory, but because of the spirit of Christ that is in her and fires her blood.

Missions to Heathen.

Fifth—The greatest thing in the future of the church, so far as her work is concerned, still remains. There is the great work of missions to the heathen. Before we can begin to form the least notion of what the church will be in the future we have to look towards the nations that have not yet been influenced by the gospel. There is India, China, Africa, the islands of the sea, and there is the house of Israel everywhere scattered. At present the church is sowing the seed among these nations, but what will the harvest be? What will the church be when all these races have been gathered into a true spiritual relationship? Let it be remembered that each of these nations will bring something to the strength and usefulness of the church. Let it be remembered that each one of them is capable of giving a separate and special interpretation of the Christian ideal. We have had the Greek interpretation of that ideal; and we have the Latin interpretation, and neither of them has been adequate or exhaustive. Since the reformation we have had a distinctly Anglo-Saxon interpretation, and that has been in many ways magnificent. The question now is what India will show when she becomes Christian; what of Africa and China. Each one of these great races may make a contribution to the life and progress of the church that will greatly enrich the church of the future. When that day comes might not the great Master say:

"In the years that shall be I will bind me nation to nation, and bound man closer to man. And closer woman to woman; and the stranger hath seen in a stranger his brother at last. And a sister in eyes that were strange."

In the years that shall be I will bind me nation to nation, and bound man closer to man. And closer woman to woman; and the stranger hath seen in a stranger his brother at last. And a sister in eyes that were strange."

In the years that shall be I will bind me nation to nation, and bound man closer to man. And closer woman to woman; and the stranger hath seen in a stranger his brother at last. And a sister in eyes that were strange."

In the years that shall be I will bind me nation to nation, and bound man closer to man. And closer woman to woman; and the stranger hath seen in a stranger his brother at last. And a sister in eyes that were strange."

In the years that shall be I will bind me nation to nation, and bound man closer to man. And closer woman to woman; and the stranger hath seen in a stranger his brother at last. And a sister in eyes that were strange."

"And victory followeth me." Beyond that we see signs of the uniting of the races and their welding together in one universal brotherhood; beyond that again we catch a glimpse of the coming of "the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband, when God shall dwell with men, and they shall be His people, and God himself shall be with them, and He shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more."

This is the goal toward which both the world and the church are moving.

It is an inspiring prospect, and for service in which everyone can take part. It is a prospect for which it is well worth living, and for which it is well worth making sacrifice.
